READY RESPONSE

Pastor Explains Need for Early Action and Congregation Acts

Sunday was a red letter day in the annals of the Glendale Presbyterian church, a day which paved the way for great things. At the close of the morning service, announcement was made by Rev. W. E. Edmonds and members of the finance committee that $25,000 of the money subscribed toward the new church was needed immediately in cash to make possible the letting of contracts for the building to be erected at the corner of Louise and Harvard.

The response was prompt and generous and by the close of the evening service at which the same appeal was made, the committee was in possession of cash or its equivalent in the sum of $25,056.25.

Ground-breaking ceremonies will take place Easter Sunday at 3 p. m. and an appropriate program is being prepared.

Besides the work done by the pastors, Rev. W. E. Edmonds and Rev. Louis Tinning, on this wonderful day, members of the finance committee rendered noble service, it being composed of Dr. J. K. Gilkerson, A. L. Baird, J. A. Newton, Howard L. Brown, A. R. Eastman, and H. L. Finlay, the executive secretary.

The church is to cost in the neighborhood of $150,000 and is to be a very handsome edifice.

MAYOR ROBINSON
GETS BOUQUET

Mayor of Indianapolis Sends Floral Token to Glendale Executive

Mayor Robinson of Glendale was the recipient Saturday of a beautiful bouquet of flowers sent by Mayor Samuel Lewis Shank of Indianapolis, Ind. On the bouquet was a card bearing the following wording:

"I take great pleasure in extending to you through the agency of flowers the best wishes of the National Flower Show, which is now being held in Indianapolis. Accept our best wishes for yourself and city."

The flowers were delivered to Mayor Robinson through the agency of the Glendale Florist company, 120 South Brand boulevard. A "floral telegram" was sent by Mayor Shank to every mayor located in a city having a floral telegraph delivery in the United States.

CURFEW LAW IS NOW ENFORCED

Two boys found on the streets after 11 o'clock Saturday night were brought into the police station by Patrolman Seddon as violators of the city's curfew law. They were questioned and it was later learned that the boys had run away from their homes in Los Angeles. The two boys gave their names as Ralph and Jack Brown and their ages as 11 and 12 years, respectively. Patrolman Seddon took the two boys to an address on Verdugo road near Park avenue which they gave as their home address and on arrival found that it was a garage with absolutely no furniture or provisions made for the accommodation of a family. The boys were returned to the police station and an attempt made to locate their parents.

On Sunday Detective Sergeant Kincaid located the boys' parents and learned that they lived at 4416 Toland way in Los Angeles. The boys then told the police that their names were Ralph and John Wilde and that they had run away from home on Friday. Chief of Police Fraser has ordered a further investigation of the story told by the boys.

IRISH BILL PASSED
LONDON, March 27.—The House of lords today passed the Irish bill on its third reading, without a record vote. This constitutes ratification of the Irish-British treaty.

What's Wrong With the World Is Asked by Mr. Foley Tonight

What's wrong with the world? This is the question that is frequently asked and often answered. "The Listening Post" tonight Mr. Foley says that the world will continue to exist, but whether people continue to exist happily, as nations, depends on themselves. He says that everybody can help and asks what you are doing. Perhaps it would be well for you to read what Mr. Foley has to say tonight in "The Listening Post." You will find it on another page in this paper this evening.

Henry James in his comment on the day's news speaks of the railroad accident at Azusa where a train crashed into a steam roller with fatal result. Mr. James sees in this another of the avoidable accidents that no particular pains were taken to avoid.

Dr. Frank Crane in his column speaks of Clarence Day, a writer whose "The Enjoyment of Gloom," has struck his fancy.

The other usual good features by John Pilgrim and Della Stewart together with poetry, paragraphs, scientific facts, and a point of view and wise sayings will all be found of interest.

COMMITTEE OF L. A. CITY CLUB GUESTS OF GLENDALE

Suburban Section Decides to Accept Invitation of Local Delegates

The intercity and suburban committee of the Los Angeles City club will spend the afternoon and perhaps evening in Glendale as guests of this city on Saturday, April 8. This was decided Saturday afternoon at the meeting of a committee to arrange the program for the second Suburban day of that organization, with Wyllys S. Abbott, chairman of the committee.

The entire day will be dominated by Glendale, is the word brought back to this city from the meeting by C. D. Gulick, transportation manager for the city of Glendale. Mr. Gulick will be the principal speaker of the day at the meeting held in Los Angeles at the City club and will tell the representatives of the other suburban cities of Glendale's fight to secure a municipally owned bus line to operate between this city and Los Angeles.

Other speakers will talk on city planning, and Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools, will talk on the "Benefits of Suburban Cities as Unities." He will explain that while there are several advantages to be gained by the suburban cities by annexing with Los Angeles the greater benefits are to the cities who maintain their identity as separate municipalities.

The program as outlined by the committee on arrangements calls for the meeting of the intercity and suburban committee at the Los Angeles City club on Saturday, April 8. The addresses by the Glendale representative, Mr. Keppel and the University of California professor who will talk on city planning will be given. It is estimated that the meeting in Los Angeles will continue for approximately one hour. After the meeting in Los Angeles the entire gathering will come to Glendale en masse as guests of either the city of Glendale or the chamber of commerce, and will be shown the meeting of the city council to determine the decision as to whether the visitors at a dinner in the evening, to be followed with speeches by several of Glendale's representative citizens.

The matter of entertaining the out-of-town visitors that day will in all probability be discussed at the meeting of the city council tonight and some decision as to who shall have the honor of entertaining the intercity and suburban committees will be decided.

It is requested by the committee arranging the second Suburban day that as many Glendaleans as can make the trip to the Los Angeles City club and attend the meeting, should do so and they are also requested to be prepared if possible to provide transportation to Glendale for other guests at the meeting from the suburban cities.

SCHOOL SURVEY REPORT TUESDAY

The school survey committee, appointed by the chamber of commerce, of which Mr. Widdows is chairman and Dr. Jessie A. Russell secretary, had a meeting Friday night and will meet again tonight at 7:30 at the chamber of commerce to complete the report it is to submit to chamber of commerce directors at their luncheon Tuesday.

ULSTER YIELDS CONSENT
BELFAST, March 27.—The Ulster cabinet today accepted the invitation of the British government to an Irish conference with southern leaders at London.

Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, will go to London tomorrow.

Follies Girl Wants Only Freedom

Pretty, petite Geneva Mitchell, 17-year-old "Follies" beauty, whose rapid romance and marriage to Robert Savage, Yale student and son of a Duluth millionaire, startled society, says she wants only her freedom. The Savage millions do not interest her, she has declared, filing suit for annulment of her marriage. Miss Mitchell admits that she didn't know her own mind when she eloped with the wealthy student, who is 21 years old. The honeymoon lasted four days.

ORGAN'S VOICE IS LIFTED IN HOLY FAMILY CHURCH

Harry Girard Sends First Tones Through the New Edifice

Sunday was a day of great rejoicing at the Holy Family Catholic church, of which Father James O'Neill is pastor. The new organ was used for the first time and demonstrated that it is a wonderful instrument under the manipulation of Harry Girard.

The musical program included St. Cecilia Mass by Gounod for choir and vocal trio composed of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard and Mr. Henri Le Bonte, portions of "The Gloria" by Gounod in which the soprano parts were sung by Mrs. Girard; selections from Stainer's "Crucifixion" sung by quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Girard and Mr. and Mrs. Le Bonte. Mr. Girard played for the offertory, "Ave Maria" (Bach-Gounod) and for the recessional to which the Knights of Columbus marched from the church, "Onward Christian Soldiers," it being Knights of Columbus Communion Day.

At the first 8 o'clock mass the church was filled and about 100 were standing when the service began. The church was also crowded at the 10:30 service.

Mr. Girard is very much pleased with the new instrument for which he has earned most of the money through the twilight concerts. One of the fine features is the ability to add special attachments from time to time which will make it an instrument constantly improving instead of diminishing in value.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES INSTALL OFFICERS

W. W. Hunt Takes Office At Celebration Saturday Night

The installation of the officers of Jewell City Branch No. 1933, National Association of Letter Carriers, was celebrated Saturday night at the K. of P. hall, Brand Blvd., corner of Park avenue, in the presence of postal employees, their families, and friends from Los Angeles, Burbank, Eagle Rock, Glendale and Hollywood.

The seating capacity of the hall was exhausted early in the evening. In installation ceremonies were followed by an entertainment of unusual merit staged by Chairman Al Holcomb and his committee.

The efficiency of the post office orchestra, which was recently organized by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, was shown by the several beautiful selections rendered throughout the evening.

The installing officers were Harry Streshley, formerly a letter carrier but now foreman of carriers in the Los Angeles postoffice, also Al Holcomb, the popular parcels post carrier of Glendale.

The following officers were duly installed: W. W. (Si) Hunt, president; Harry H. Fraser, vice-president; Oscar W. Wright, secretary; Cal S. Nicholson, treasurer; A. S. Wood, sergeant-at-arms; W. M. Standley, J. Milton Hague, A. S. Faulkner, trustees.

Following the installation, Mr. Streshley made a pleasing address of congratulations and advice, citing Postmaster Jackson on the loyalty and cooperation existing among employees of the Glendale postoffice.

STRANDED AUTO TOURISTS TELL TALES OF HARD LUCK TO THE GLENDALE PRESS

Misery of Whole Families Who Are Camping on San Fernando Road in Their Machines Are Unable to Proceed It Is Related

WORK, FOOD AND CLOTHES BADLY NEEDED

Children Unable to Go to School Because of Unclad Condition; Crowded Sanitary Accommodations Complicate Serious Condition

One-half of the world does not know how the other half lives. This is true here in Glendale just the same as in the larger cities of the nation. Here in the midst of peace and plenty there are families who are striving, with but meager success, to eke out just the barest existence. There are families where children of school age are forced to stay out of school because they have not sufficient clothing to wear. There are families who are living from day to day on groceries for which the grocer trusts them because he says that he knows they will pay him when the husband and father gets on his feet. These people are not even living in houses. They are residents of the auto camping grounds scattered along the edge of the city where rent is cheap.

Reports of several cases such as this have been made to the Glendale Daily Press and Saturday afternoon a reporter was sent to investigate the reports. The sights seen and facts disclosed by the investigation would touch even the hardest heart. Three auto camps were visited along the San Fernando road. These camps, were started originally to provide a stopping place for the automobile tourist but many homeless people have availed themselves of the boon of low rent and are making the grounds their permanent homes.

At the first camp visited it was found that there were 12 families camping on the grounds making a total of 31 people. The outstanding feature of the camp, and one that should be remedied, is the fact that for the entire camp of 31 people there are only two lavatories, one for the men and one for the women, and these two lavatories are under one roof and built over a cesspool. Many of the tenants were questioned regarding the accommodations and all groed that more lavatories are needed. The garbage is disposed of by the man who operates the camp grounds. He works all day and after his day's work he gathers the garbage and buries it. The tin cans and paper are hauled away. There are no bathing facilities for the tenants and only one water hydrant where the water is drawn for the entire camp. Questions disclosed the fact that the campers use a wash-buff for bathing and that after the bath the waste water is dumped any place.

In most of the tents there is an average of two people living but in one tent measuring 6 feet by 14 feet there is a family of seven; one mother, father and five children, ranging in age from two years to 14. They cook, eat and sleep in

L. A. Blocks Sewer Solution

With her great geographical girth sprawling upon the sanitary right of way to the sea of all the country back of her coast line, Los Angeles, in her quibbling, selfish control of the outfall sewer situation is a detriment instead of a beneficent sister in the sisterhood of the cities of the county, exacting submission to her government as the price of sanitary facilities.

Keenly alert to the advantages the absorption of her sisters would be to her taxpayers, her merchants, her political and economic power, she is blind and deaf to the actual danger with which she menaces the health of her own community by not, voluntarily, while there is yet time, clearing the way for all the sewage from the communities around her to be delivered to the sea in one cleansing wave of debris.

Around the great sweeping arc of the boundaries of Los Angeles are communities built up by multitudes of people who are grimly determined to hold to their cesspools and septic tanks rather than sacrifice the entity of their corporate existence, by submitting to the domination of the powers that be in control of Los Angeles, and refuse to extend the Los Angeles already too far flung boundary line, in exchange for logical sewage disposal.

All of these communities, of which Glendale is the largest, are built upon ground rising above Los Angeles. The slope of the terrain protects their water supplies—but creeping closer to the great city inch by inch their cesspool drainage is driving directly toward and at the water supply of the great proud city.

All the territory around Los Angeles will in time become sewer poisoned ground that neither time nor science can neutralize and the water supply of the biggest city on the California Pacific coast will be contaminated beyond rescue.

This is not a fanciful picture viewed in the prospect of a continuation of the policy of Los Angeles. Already the city engineers of Los Angeles look with troubled eyes upon the overflow of sewage from Glendale in flood time into the Los Angeles river to the porous soil of this city and to the slope of the land toward the greater city. They have looked worried at plans for the location of a sewer farm near the city line of Los Angeles, knowing the direction seepage would take.

They have worried at the tremendous growth of Glendale and the country back of this city, all on a cesspool or septic tank basis.

The engineers have watched Glendale wrestle with the sewer problem and realize with Glendaleans the enormous outlay necessary to finance an outlet to the sea independent of Los Angeles' system. They have seen the folly of the Los Angeles city council in non-committal refusal to allow connection with the new outfall sewer except upon a basis of annexation.

If Los Angeles had one man of the dynamic personalities of her city in her council chamber she would be led to build an outfall sewer so great that it would be the wonder of the Pacific coast. She would then offer sewer disposal privileges to every sister city along her frontier on a basis of cash for service. Then she could move her own sewage in the same channel without a dollar of actual expense to herself by amortizing the cost of construction through the years to come.

For this is the great new thought—why not a sewer service? A commercial enterprise? For service only?

Then Los Angeles would find to exclude her sister communities from her control would be to increase her revenues and her efforts would be concentrated on keeping cities beyond her frontier, just as a merchant keeps his customers away from his cash register.

Claims Man Hypnotized Her Into Marriage

George E. Locpiatto hypnotized her, spirited her away and married her, claims Miss Nellie Udovin of Roxbury, Mass. Charging that her family took her away from him after a brief honeymoon, Locpiatto is suing the family for $50,000 for alienations of his wife's affections.

HI SCHOOL BONDS BRING $9000 BONUS

$94,000 Is Received for $85,000 Worth of Securities

Ninety-four thousand dollars for the high school site bonds was received in the sale today. The price paid was 79 cents and accrued interest above par, representing a total of $9000 over the face value of the bonds, which were 5 1/2 per cent debentures.

The figures indicate the high standing of the loans of the city in the bond market. The average sale price of high school bonds at par is considered a financial endorsement of any community's ability to pay. To receive a premium of $9000 shows that there is an eager market for the bonds of this city.

The report from Los Angeles today indicated that the issue had raised considerable interest. No less than ten bidders entered the field for the securities, which were awarded to the California bank of Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES MUST CONTROL RIVER

Blamed Thing Wanders Over Town Says Business Man

OWENSMOUTH, Calif., March 27.—Los Angeles will either have to regulate its river or the Owensmouth chamber of commerce won't let it flow through this city any more.

This ultimatum was reached today at an indignation meeting here.

"A fine river they've got," said one citizen in an impassioned speech. "Like everything else connected with Los Angeles, it tries to hog all of Southern California."

"One day our high school is on the bank of the river. The next day the river isn't anywhere in sight; maybe it's flowing through my front yard or one in the other end of town."

This situation has got to stop. If the Los Angeles river administration doesn't do something, we'll take matters into our own hands. I'll donate the use of a cow my self; take her down to the channel and let her drink up the whole thing."

The meeting culminated in the passage of a petition requesting the city of Los Angeles to build bulkheads and retaining walls in an effort to cure the alleged river of wanderlust.

IMPORTATION OF COAL IS PLANNED

Government Seeks to Prevent Famine in Strike by Buying Abroad

WASHINGTON, March 27.—A project of importation of coal to save the nation from a coal famine which might result from the walk-out of the miners April 1, is planned by government officials, it was learned here today.

The shipping board has been asked to consider a scheme for utilizing coal as ballast on its vessels, plying between the United States and coal producing countries.

Experts say if this plan materializes no fuel shortage could result within twelve months time at least.

Portland Charges 50 Cents Per Day for Tourists' Stay

PORTLAND, March 27.—A daily charge of 50 cents will be assessed for a ten-day period, a length of stay which may be increased at the option of the park bureau, for tourists using the Portland municipal camping ground during the coming season, according to an ordinance passed last week by the Portland city council.

Last season, which was the camp's first year in operation, tourists were charged but 50 cents for registration and allowed to make use of the park during a ten-day stay, free from other charges. The ten-day period was renewed by a second payment of 50 cents so long as the tourist elected to remain. It was charged, however, that the daily charge of 50 cents was comparatively universal in other cities maintaining adequate camp sites, and so, to make the grounds self-sustaining, that fee has been put into force here also.

The new grounds has tent plots, washing and cooking sheds with gas fuel, comfort stations and convenient supply depots. Tourists from all parts of the country used the park last season.

BUS BRIEF SERVED ON P. E. TODAY BY GLENDALE

Transportation Manager Gulick Completes 5-day Check on Traffic

That Glendale needs a municipal motor bus line operating between this city and Los Angeles and needs it badly, has been proven by the five-day check on the service and accommodations given the Glendale commuters by the Pacific Electric. This check was made at Los Feliz road and Brand boulevard by four men, and was exclusive of the Burbank cars. The men checked the number of passengers, and accommodations for them, for approximately 96 hours during the five days, or every hour that the Pacific Electric operates cars in this district.

The maximum number of passengers hauled by the line during the five days, and the average daily traffic was 3033 passengers. The maximum hauled per hour was 1154, with a minimum of 33 during the slack hours in the middle of the day. The high daily average hauled-per-hour was 502 with a minimum of 215. The average of passengers hauled per hour during the 96 hours the service was checked was 409.09. The approximate number of people standing on the cars because there were not sufficient seats during the 96 hours was 999. There were 70 people standing on one train.

C. D. Gulick, city transportation manager, in making public the results of this check, stated that the check was made at Los Feliz road and Brand boulevard and did not include people boarding the car on the south side of the Southern Pacific tracks and in the Edendale district. This information is being incorporated in the briefs drawn by Mr. Gulick and City Attorney Bert Woodward and will be served on the Pacific Electric and the board of public utilities of the City of Los Angeles today.

The briefs will be served today and must be answered within five days. As indicated by the information secured through the check, Mr. Gulick says that the city of Glendale's contention that the service by the Pacific Electric is inadequate, and that the accommodations furnished are inadequate for the amount of traffic handled in this city, will be upheld.

At the time of filing the application with the board of public utilities requesting a permit to operate the bus line on the streets of Los Angeles, the board requested this information and intimated that if the contentions of inadequate service could be proven, there would be practically no obstacle in the way of granting the permit.

LECTURE GIVEN BY REV. BROUGHER

Members of the Glendale commandery and their friends are to enjoy a great treat in the lecture which is to be given tonight in the commandery hall by Rev. Jas. Whitcomb Brougher, entitled "Keys and Keyholes," which is new and full of humor, and something more substantial than mere entertainment.

CHRISTIAN CALL HEARD IN GLENDALE

Over 100 High Students Attend Southern California Conference

MEETING IS SUCCESS

Lives of Great Men Formed General Theme of Gathering

The Southern California Christian Calling conference which met Saturday and Sunday in this city, was the most successful gathering of its kind that has ever been held in this part of the state.

More than one hundred young men were in attendance representing high schools throughout Southern California. A number of delegations were accompanied by high school principals.

The general theme of the conference was "Lives of Great Men," the talks centering around great Christian men who have made successes of their lives.

Delegates began arriving at 3 p. m. Saturday and were met by representatives of the High Y, who showed them about the city and to the homes where they were to be entertained. All appeared to enjoy Glendale and the wonderful hospitality extended to them.

A banquet was served Saturday evening in the social hall of the First Methodist church where the tables were arranged in the form of a large triangle.

David Black, president of the local board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. acted as toastmaster and the dinner was followed by a song fest and a series of fine talks. Dr. Remsen D. Bird, president of Occidental spoke on fundamentals in the choice of life work, and urged the boys to be square with themselves and their God in their work.

George H. Gleason of Japan told of his experiences with the Japanese army as a Y. M. C. A. secretary during the Russo-Japanese war, also some of his experiences during the war with the Japanese in Russia. He is in this country because the Japanese government thought so highly of him that he was asked to accompany the Japanese delegation as an official adviser during the recent disarmament conference in Washington.

Dr. Willis Martin of Hollywood talked to the boys about the great lives invested in the ministry, setting before them the challenge of that great calling in a forceful manner.

Harry Henderson, general secretary of the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., closed the series of addresses by a speech on the great lives invested in the Y. M. C. A. telling of the many and varied opportunities for service in that field.

The chief business transacted at this session was the election of George Jordan of the Glendale Hi Y as president of the conference. A speech on the great lives invested in the Y. M. C. A. telling of the many and varied opportunities for service in that field.

The boys were divided into groups and each group attended a different church. Following the church services they assembled to have a picture taken and then adjourned to the Intermediate cafeteria where a bountiful and delicious dinner was served with

The Barton Bedtime Stories

SO MISTER NOAH INVESTIGATES THE RAVEN

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by Associated Newspapers)

"I told you so," Dr. Muskrat fairly beamed. "The Old Crow's trick—it fools folks every time. That's how the raven on the Ark fooled Mister Noah. He picked on the poor nice first; then he got Mister Noah to picking on them—not forgetting the dogs. And he pretended to be on Mister Noah's side—Oh, it took him in!"

"Don't you believe it!" The red dog waded a very earnest tail. "You never knew the captain. I'll tell you who was doing the fooling; it was that wise old man. He was supposed to be so busy with the stars; a lot of the time it was so folks wouldn't think he had his eye on them. He wouldn't gossip; so folks never guessed how much he knew about what was going on. He never held any one. Not even his sons. He just wouldn't bother with folks till they bothered him."

"Now the raven did. That's just why Mister Noah didn't say anything to him. The dog didn't. That's just why Mister Noah scolded him. Words don't matter a bit to a dog; he knows what his master has in his mind and so what Mister Noah said couldn't hurt Sheep's feelings. The only thing about it to bother the dog was that every time he'd sniff at Mister Noah's hand the old man would say, 'Have you caught your fleas yet?' Then he'd have to start scratching."

"Mice? Eh? I'll bet Mister Noah knew if they wouldn't obey Mother Nature they wouldn't obey him, captain or no captain. Why catching mice was about all the fun some folks were having. And I s'pect he s'pected the dog would ask all his friends to help him so they wouldn't have to bother about trying to hide what they were doing.

"But he was most particular to be nice and easy-spoken with the raven. He didn't speak directly to that bird when he asked, 'Is there any one feels strong enough to fly out and look about for land?' Seems like there must be some showing. But he looked straight at him."

"So, off he soared, and Mister Noah watched him go."

"Of course, the dove spoke up. She'd have done anything for him—but then the dove is always accommodating. He shook his head. 'Too fat, my dear. You'd go tail over ears when you got in a

PURE RELIGION IS DEFINED BY THE REV. PRESTON

"Pure religion and undeviled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep one's self unpolluted from the world. To have freedom of soul is to serve in the world and yet to keep one's soul unpolluted," said Harvey G. Preston at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church yesterday.

"Ours is an active vital part of life; it is our privilege and duty to go down into the dregs of life to save, and to serve, but to keep our souls as free from stain as a banner unfurled."

"Sin keeps one from enjoying freedom of soul," George Ade not long ago resigned from the trusteeship of a university and said in his letter of resignation, 'I never want to belong to an institution where they try to teach the young squall.' Then he looked at the raven again.

"Oh, sure, if thin gulls hadn't plucked me wings to the bone—

And then he remembered how he'd done a sight of flying since that time, with Mister Noah looking at him. So he finished, 'But 'tis a fine brick day. I'd feel the better by a good shining wit the wind up there.' So off he soared. And Mister Noah watched him go. When he circled for a look, there was Mister Noah, still watching. So he kept on going."

NEXT STORY—WHO HAD BEEN GOSSIPING?

to fly by tying its feet to a branch of the tree."

"That is precisely what sin does to the young or aged. Sin ties the feet of humanity to the earth. It keeps them from soaring. It is a leaden weight. Sin is to a man what an iron chain is to an eagle. Man is capable of soaring but sin keeps him down."

"An eagle darted down and picked up a poisonous snake. Far up into the heavens he carried it until finally the poison from the snake's fangs had done its deadly work and the great eagle dropped to earth. I have heard young people say, 'I am going to have whatever I want regardless of consequences.' Beware of the fall ahead. One may carry his sin with him up into society but the fall is bound to come some time. Sin is not of the sky. I have a boy in mind now. He was built in his soul to fly among the stars. He had eloquence. He had personality. He had life, and action, strength, brains and ambition. He was selected in a certain high school class out of fifty to represent the class as orator at commencement time. No one thought of anyone else. He was the outstanding man of the class. It was settled from the beginning that he was the one."

"Ten years later he was a physical and mental wreck and he had never gone beyond high school. He had never flown into the starry ways. He had never neared with the clouds and blue sky—a thing that he was built for. Why? Because sin had tied itself like a leaden mountain and kept him down."

"There is one hope for freedom of soul. That is Christ. One who has been dragged down for years with sin can be released in a minute if he will accept Christ. 'Let not your heart be troubled; if ye believe in God, believe also in me! That sounds as if Christ were talking to men who had some worry or some weight or some

WHITE TAKES OVER REO SPEED WAGON AGENCY HERE

The Harry E. White, co., one of the best known automobile concerns in Glendale, with elaborate offices and show rooms at the intersection of Brand boulevard and San Fernando road, has just taken over the agency for the Reo speed wagons and automobiles in Glendale and surrounding territory. Mr. White has been in business in Glendale for years, and in taking over the Reo line he promises to give the people of Glendale nothing but first-class service, both in the new car and repair line.

"The new Reo," said Mr. White, this morning, "is outstandingly handsome in design, and unsurpassed in details with regard to finish, trimmings and mountings. There is not a more wonderful motor on the market today than the Reo Six and it is a constant source of pleasure to the experienced motorist to drive one. One of the outstanding features of this motor is that it improves with service. It seems to improve from day to day and the same qualities that render it so silent, assures it Joaquin Miller gives us this beautiful verse: 'Gaze starward; stand high and unafraid; Free souled as a banner unfurled; Be worthy! O Brother, be worthy! For a God was the price of this world.'"

the long life for which it is noted. Truly, the combination of power and silence in the Reo Six is one of the triumphs of modern science. "In the construction of the Reo nothing but the finest of workmanship and material are used. All parts of this machine are evenly balanced. The very finest of steel is used in the manufacture of every part of the chassis and the body in every way conforms to the excellence of the sturdy chassis. The people of Glendale generally are glad to see Mr. White take over the agency for the Reo car, and the Reo owners are especially glad to have so reputable a company handle the make of machine they own."

ILLINOIS CLEANERS AND DYERS OPEN

The Glendale business district has been enlarged by the entrance of another first class establishment, this being the Illinois Cleaners and Dyers, 629 East Broadway. This firm opened its doors this morning and hereafter will be right "on its toes" giving the people of Glendale the very best there is in its line.

"We offer to the people of Glendale the highest type of master cleaning and dyeing at unusually reasonable prices," said the manager of this establishment this morning. "We guarantee satisfaction on all accepted work. You can safely leave in our hands the refreshing of your choicest garments or draperies, knowing that they will receive the benefit of our years of experience as experts."

The members of this firm believe they see in Glendale an excellent opening for their business. They have come to Glendale to live and are going to remain here permanently.

CIZEK AUTO ELEC. CO. REMAINS AT PRESENT STAND

"There is an erroneous report going the rounds that the Cizek Auto Electric company is going to move," said Mr. Kuhns of the Cizek Auto Electric company, Colorado and Brand, this morning. "An article appeared in the newspaper a few days ago to the effect that the Willard battery station would soon move to Orange street. This referred to the Willard station in Burbank and has nothing to do with the Cizek Auto Electric company."

"We are perfectly satisfied with our present location and our hundreds of patrons are satisfied with the battery and ignition service we are giving them. If we make any kind of a change in the future it will be to enlarge our present quarters, which our rapidly increasing business will probably make absolutely necessary in the near future."

"The popularity of the Willard is growing very rapidly in Glendale. This results from the more economical service given by the Willard. One of the principal reasons for this is the threaded rubber insulation which is used. This consists of a multitude of tiny threads embedded in pure rubber, which allow the free chemical action necessary for the production of adequate current. This threaded rubber does not check, warp or crack, and retains the valuable insulating properties of rubber, yet is so porous that current passes freely even when hard starting makes an extra heavy demand on the battery. This threaded rubber feature is proving to be the "big thing" in the storage battery business."

Waiting impatiently for his delayed breakfast, a man called up stairs to his wife to hurry down, as he had to get to "pizness" early.

No answer received, he rushed to the bathroom door and banged loudly. Still no response. He burst open the door, only to discover that his wife had fallen into faint. Without further ado he went to the landing and called kitchenward: "Rachel, only boil run egg this mornin'!"

RUB RHEUMATISM PAIN FROM SORE, ACHING JOINTS

What is rheumatism? Pain only. St. Jacobs Oil will stop any pain, so quit drugging.

Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil directly upon the tender spot and relief comes instantly. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism and sciatica liniment, which never discolours and can not burn the skin. Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle from your druggist, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic and sciatic pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. Old, honest St. Jacobs Oil has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.—Adv.

LODGES - CLUBS - CHURCHES

THE LINDSEYS ARE PLEASANTLY SURPRISED

On Saturday evening, about 30 friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lindsey of 327 West Wilson avenue dropped in on them and greatly surprised the couple. The guests met at the home of Mrs. Ledyard and at 8 o'clock went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey to help celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

After visiting for a short time, H. W. Yarick with a few well-chosen words, presented them, in behalf of their friends, a large gold fruit plate and two gold salt and pepper shakers. Mr. Lindsey responded in a very fitting and happy manner, emphasizing their good fortune in locating in such a pleasant neighborhood.

During the evening, which was spent in social conversation, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served and the guests then departed wishing the couple many more years of happy wedded life.

SING AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Glendaleans are urged to sing to attend the community sing to be held in the First Methodist church Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. H. W. Brown is the director, and there will be fine solo numbers.

THE RIGDONSONS ARE HOSTS AT MUSICAL

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Rigdon of 224 West Doran street were host and hostess at a delightful musical Sunday afternoon, their special guests being Mr. and Mrs. Amon Dorsey Cain, Los Angeles musicians, Mrs. Cain being a fine pianist and teacher, Mr. Cain a retired opera singer. They gave a delightful program which included "Romance" (Gastalgon), "Autumn" (Halle), "Floral Dance" (Moss), "The Blind Plover" (Clarke), "The Wreck of the Julia Plante" (O'Hara), "Negro Spirituals by Burleigh," "Rolling Down the Rio" (German).

The guest list included H. S. Webb, his mother, Mrs. Frankie Webb, Mr. and Mrs. John Watson, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Mrs. Helen Sawyer of Santa Barbara, and Mrs. Lillian Smith.

The Rigdon home was beautifully decorated with acacia bloom and punch and wafers were served, the hostess being assisted by little Barbara Sawyer.

Besides the program mentioned, Mr. Cain sang a group of songs especially for the pleasure of the children present—Vassar Peckham, Warren Rigdon, Henry Sawyer, Barbara Sawyer and Lewis Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. Cain were dinner guests of the Rigdonson Sunday night at the Glen Inn.

The party Sunday afternoon was the first of a series of musicales which Mr. and Mrs. Rigdon are planning to give.

Mrs. Coleman, a popular young dramatic soprano gave two groups of songs which were very well received, with Miss Roberts at the piano.

Tuesday morning they will be heard by the Highland Park Ebell club and Wednesday morning at the convention of Women's Clubs at Santa Monica.

MRS. OCKER GIVES TEA TO ARTISTS

Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker was hostess at a tea Sunday afternoon at which a number of guests distinguished as artists, musicians or in other ways, were entertained. She was assisted in pouring by Mrs. Jesse Joseph of this city and her guest list included Baron and Baroness de Roppe, Mademoiselle Clemence a Dieudonne, Arthur O'Dell, Keonard J. Frankish, Viola Ellis, Major E. W. Jones, Jack Lavingne, Truman B. Handy, Miss Amy Geiger, C. E. Denny, Dr. Robert W. Douglas, William Justema, Miss Jeanette Abel, Miss Georgia Booth, Chester Merten, David Whndor, Georgia Limoges, Frank Andrews, Edith Palmer, Francis Joseph Hickson, Carl Miller, Rachel Adams, Man Hillary Harrison, Ralph E. Brown, Chas. A. Adams, Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Whitling, Mr. and Mrs. Malvern Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Sherman, Mrs. Alma Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Murman, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Childers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Franklin, Booth Franklin.

Baroness de Roppe read extracts from letters she has received from her son in Russia who has suffered so much at the hands of bolsheviks and made a talk on Russia in general, which was of extreme interest.

Viola Ellis, who is grand opera singer with a very beautiful contralto voice, and Chester Merten, a tenor, sang, Miss Georgia Booth serving as their piano accompanist. Miss Alma Geiger contributed a piano solo.

A pleasant feature of the afternoon was an exhibit of water colors by Merle Cox, original in subjects and very beautiful in coloring.

PARENT-TEACHERS PLAN CONFERENCE

The First district of the Glendale P. T. A. are planning a conference to be held a week from Tuesday, April 4th at the First Methodist church, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning and lasting until 4 in the afternoon.

The national president, Mrs. Milton Higgins from Boston, Mass., will be present and will speak before the conference.

The father Girard will lead in the community singing and Mrs. Arnold will render several vocal selections. Mrs. M. S. Kuehny will play the pipe organ.

The association is looking forward to an interesting day and everybody is welcome to attend.

THE GIRARDS ARE GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard of this city were guests Sunday night at a dinner given by Mrs. Florence Lawrence, the well known musical critic at which a company of 12 was entertained, the guest list including Benjamin Hampton of the Motion picture production, Mr. Cannon, art designer of Lasky's, Mr. Moon, Mr. Quinn, Mr. Moriarty of Eagle Rock and other distinguished persons.

NEW GLENDALE. Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Knesel of 305 1/2 South Central avenue are happy over the arrival of their son, born Sunday at the Glendale hospital and sanitarium.

SWIFT TOO SWIFT CHICAGO, March 27.—Louis Swift, Jr., son of the packer, will be tried at Evanston Friday on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Swift spent four hours in jail yesterday waiting for friends to bail him out.

His arrest followed a crash in which four occupants of another car were injured. In a statement Swift said the accident was unavoidable and that he was not intoxicated.

AUTO TOLL OF DEATH NEW YORK, March 27.—Eighteen persons were killed and 48 injured in automobile accidents over the week-end, according to figures gathered by the United Press today from all parts of the country.

RECIPES PRESENTED DAILY BY KATE BREW VAUGHN

ROUQUEFORT CHEESE SALAD DRESSING Two ounces or one-fourth cup of cheese, four to six tablespoons olive oil, two to three tablespoons vinegar, one-half teaspoon salt and paprika. Beat the cheese to a cream; then gradually beat in the oil, vinegar, etc. The uncooked yolk of an egg is sometimes beaten into the cheese, before the oil, and thick cream may replace part of the oil.

CURDLED MAYONNAISE Occasionally a mayonnaise will assume a curdled appearance; under the circumstances, often the addition of a very little of white egg or a few drops of lemon juice, with thorough beating, will cause the sauce to resume its former smoothness. In case it does not become smooth, put the yolk of an egg into a cold bowl, beat well and add to it the curdled mixture slowly.

SAUCE TARTARE Make a mayonnaise dressing, using tarragon vinegar. To each cup of dressing add one shallot, chopped fine, two tablespoons, each, of finely chopped capers, olives and cucumber pickles, one tablespoon of chopped parsley, and one-fourth a teaspoon of powdered tarragon.

Keith L. Brooks Preaches to Large Class at City Hall

At the large Sunday school class held Sunday mornings at the city hall and led by Keith L. Brooks, the lesson was in part as follows:

When Jesus Christ and three selected disciples, Peter, James and John, came down from the mount of transfiguration, as recorded in the 17th chapter of Matthew, they came upon a strange picture. The other disciples were surrounded by a jeering crowd. A father who had brought his son, a lunatic, to the disciples to be healed immediately approached Jesus and explained that he had brought the boy to His disciples and they had failed to help him.

Christians should realize that Jesus Christ is often taunted with their failures. Churches are being charged today with being powerless. The world is a lunatic at the door of the church. The church is here to save souls, to lift mankind and help saints. Many have abandoned this business and gone into the amusement business. They are mocking unregenerate men with useless talk. As in the time of the disciples, many sinners are saying, "I went to them, and they had nothing to offer."

Jesus answered, "O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I suffer you? Bring him hither to me." This is not an open rebuke of His disciples. His words to them were spoken in private as we see in verse 19. It is no easy thing to stand before a mocking, unbelieving crowd. It is then that Christian workers find out how little power they have. We can do many things in the company of the saints, in the church and in the prayer meeting that we would find it next to impossible to do down on Los Angeles street. Jesus' rebuke here is to the unbelieving crowd, the perverse generation.

Mark's account of the incident (Mark 9:22-24) shows us how the seeking father himself confesses his unbelief: "Help thou mine unbelief." Jesus healed the young man.

"Then came the disciples to Jesus apart and said, 'Why could not we cast him out?' When we have been beaten let it be said of us, 'Another thing to believe that apart.' They had this rebuke on their side. They had sense enough to know that they had failed. There are churches today which make big annual reports of meetings held, amusement enterprises carried through, investments made, members received by letter, but no souls saved. These are Christian workers who fail utterly in the thing to which they are called, but they never inquire of Jesus about it. They go through forms and mechanical actions and do not seem to realize that they have lost connection with the spirit of God. We may even have the language of Jesus on our lips, yet be without this power in our lives. Thank God for the kickers. It was the jeers of the people that drove the disciples to Christ. The bragging infidels today have many a Christian to his Bible and to his knees in prayer.

Jesus Christ said, "Because of your unbelief." This is the last place we look for an explanation of the failure—within. We will blame heaven, earth and hell first. Perhaps they said, "But we did have faith." Yet it is one thing to believe that God is able to do a thing, another thing to believe that He will do the thing. This kind of faith is not born in the noise of the crowd. It is derived from the Holy Spirit.

"This kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting." Their faith lacked vital spiritual force. It is no holiday job to deal with some cases. Faith needs this two-fold nourishment. We do not understand wise plans, yet history shows that most any kind of plan works in the hands of praying men. The real victory must be won first in the secret place. In the open battle we simply press the victory already won. Fasting is also necessary in some cases. Prayer needs the nourishment of self-denial. There must be a deep earnestness. S. D. Gordon points out that we have four outlets of power: (1) Life—what we are; (2) Lips—what we say; (3) Labor—what we do; (4) Liberty—what we give. But there is just one inlet of power and this is prayer where we come in closer touch with the Spirit of God. Unless we put these four outlets of power in connection with the great fountain of power we will certainly fail.

DE-FLAP FLAP AT U. OF CAL.

BERKELEY, Cal., March 27.—A move to start the University of California campus is under way. The move started with a group of women with the avowed intention of creating a "superintelligent woman" and the motto of the organization was "One flap and out you go."

The movement has spread rapidly, although it has been somewhat de-supernaturalized by the class of hot-poll which have joined in from among the student body. It is now broadened out into the Anti-Flapper society.

Initiation ceremonies will be held shortly. Some of the best minds of any on the campus are back of the move.

A surplus is that part of your income that will remain with you, except that it doesn't.

It is better to be wrecked through overzeal than to rot from overcaution.

TOURISTS' TRIALS

one tent. The father is unable to work. His foot was broken when a heavy timber fell on it recently. The mother is working but barely earns enough to keep the family supplied with food. With all of her work she is patient and maintains the winning spirit. She said when questioned: "Yes, we are broke, but we will pull through some way. We always have. Haven't we, Daddy?" and Daddy, who is a skilled blacksmith, who was forced to give up his trade through ill health, said "Yes." There are three children of school age and all of them are attending school with the exception of one girl who was injured recently and cannot go.

Their story would touch the hardest heart. It is full of the indomitable spirit that will not give up even though the possessor is defeated and down. In the east the father was a blacksmith and earned good money at his trade. He was forced to give up his work on account of ill health and came to California to take advantage of the sunshine and milder climate. On moving to California the father took up carpenter work but because of his inexperience can do nothing but rough work.

The family went to the Imperial Valley first and located at Calexico where everything was smooth for a while and then work became hard to find and the family decided to move. The father and the oldest boy and girl decided that they would pioneer into the fruit country near Banning, make a home for the rest of the family, and send for the mother. Shortly after arriving the little girl was shot in the arm by a playmate. A section of the flesh and nerves of her right arm were shot away, making her a cripple for life.

The little girl was in the hospital for weeks and after leaving there the family went to San Bernardino one night to get an old automobile that belonged to them. On the return trip the machine turned over and the father, mother, one son and daughter went to the hospital for several weeks. In some way the family made their way to Glendale and have been here for several months. Before the rainy weather started the father was working as a carpenter earning $8 per day and the future looked a little brighter. Then came the rains and the cessation of work. The father managed to secure a few days work at a time until a heavy timber fell on his foot. To make matters worse the epidemic of influenza reached Glendale and struck savagely at the little family. At one time six of the seven members of the family were down in bed with the disease. They have all recovered now, but the exception of the father who is still a cripple with his foot in a plaster cast and in the meantime the mother is working to keep bread in the mouths and shoes on the feet of the little ones so they can go to school.

Another camp ground was visited and conditions there were practically the same as regards sanitation. This camp was just opened the first of the month and the two men operating it have not had an opportunity to install several sanitary features they are planning. There are two lavatories for the use of the campers who number eight families and a total of 32 people but a modern bath house with shower baths for the men and another for the women and two lavatories for the men and two for the women, in addition to a laundry, are being installed. These will be ready for use within a short time.

There is a family living on this camp ground that is practically destitute. There is a mother, father and three children, one a daughter of 17 years, another girl 13 years old and a boy 7 years old. The oldest girl is working and lives in Glendale now. Until Friday the other children were all at home and the four people were living in a small house part lumber and part canvas, that is about the size of a large clothes closet. The two children are not going to school because they have not the proper clothing. The mother said that the little boy has no shoes and the little girl is but little better clothed. A home has been found for the little girl with a Glendale woman where the child is given a home in return for helping with the house work.

In the east the father was a man who earned considerable money. After moving to California a series of mishaps depleted the bank account and sickness following close on the heels of hardship rendered the family destitute. At the beginning of the influenza epidemic the father and mother were

MRS. BILLIG AND A. R. HILL ARE QUIETLY WED

Motor to Santa Barbara for Honeymoon and Return to Glendale

Mrs. May B. Billig of the Broadway Beauty Shop and A. R. Hill of Glendale were quietly married Thursday evening at 6 o'clock by Rev. Hughes, at the Methodist parsonage, Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Billig wore a traveling suit and a corsage bouquet of violets and maiden hair fern. The couple motored to Santa Barbara, returning Sunday evening and will make their home at 424 West Colorado street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Watson of 530 North Central, and son Lewis Watson, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Rigdon and son, Warren, at a matinee performance Saturday of "Abie's Irish Rose," afterwards taking their guests to dinner at the Colonial.

Both taken sick. After several weeks of illness the father secured a position as a laborer. He worked two weeks and injured his leg. He has been laid up for several weeks and on Saturday went to work at another job. He is working as a laborer.

There are other families living on these two camp grounds that are living there because of the low rent and then there are other people making their temporary homes on the grounds until they have time to secure a more permanent location. Other residents are tourists who are stopping in Glendale for only a few weeks before continuing their journey.

The people on the grounds that are in need are not shiftless or lazy. They are the people that life has not treated kindly and through ill-health and other mishaps have drained to the last drops the bitter cup of misery. Not the misery of actual pain but the soul scarring pain of seeing loved ones want for proper food and clothing, the pain of seeing the children deprived of clothes to cover their nakedness. This misery can be alleviated. Who will help and how?

RELIEF CORPS AND VETS' DAUGHTERS HOLD PARTY

Joint Reception Will Be Given to Banks Post

The reception given by the Mary Jane Gillette tent No. 18, Daughters of Veterans, Saturday afternoon to the members of N. P. Banks post, G. A. R., and the Women's Relief Corps, was a great success.

The affair was given in honor of the second birthday of the tent and was held in the American Legion hall, 610 1/2 East Broadway. The hall was arranged artistically to represent the large drawing room, with comfortable day-ports, attractive rugs, etc. Potted ferns and flags were used in decorating and in the center of the spacious room stood a library table on which were placed photographs of the fathers and grandfathers who served in the Civil War. These proved interesting to the G. A. R. members.

A very fine program was given which included a piano duet by Miss Florence Chadwick and Mrs. Joe V. Griffin; a fancy dance in costume by Devin Wood, vocal solo by Mrs. A. J. Van Wie, piano solo by Mrs. Frederica Brown, tone solo by Eleanor Marek, vocal solo by Mrs. Irvin-Bullock, piano solo by Miss Florence Chadwick.

Mrs. Ada Judd, president of Helen Jean Christy tent, Los Angeles, made a short talk and Mrs. Lottie Field, Southern California tent organizer, also spoke.

Joe V. Griffin, past division commander of Sons of Veterans, was also present and gave a splendid talk.

At the close of this interesting program delicious refreshments of home made cake and ice cream were served. The large birthday cake for the tent was made by Mrs. Susie Peck, president, and two red candles stood on top in honor of the birthday. The cake was cut by Past President Mrs. Cora Jones. About 100 friends of the tent enjoyed this splendid afternoon.

There is hardly anything so good for a man's standing in the community as to get a lot of some other man's money away from him.

The larger a man is in front the more he likes to project himself on the street without a coat.

A man isn't beaten as long as he isn't discouraged.

Truths in Epigram

Fine art is that in which the hand, the head
and the heart go together. — Ruskin (1819-1900).

Life is a mystery as deep as ever death can be. Yet oh, how dear it is to us, this life we live and set!—Dodge (1838-1905).

Any one can hold the helm when the sea is calm.—Syrus (42 B. C.).

THE COMMERCIAL SPIRIT

The "commercial spirit" is not that of mere enterprise. It is that which measures the world in terms of money. It is that now engaged in despoiling the Arroyo Seco of its natural beauty. This Arroyo it may be necessary to explain, is a natural water course richly endowed with scenic charm. It is capable of being made a long park of exquisite comeliness. It is important to the people of Los Angeles and Pasadena particularly, but to some degree important to every lover of nature. To ruin it is an act of desecration. Its banks are being ripped by steam shovels. Towering shade trees that shelter it are being torn out by the roots. Its rich foliage, its wealth of undergrowth are being destroyed. Rock crushers are crushing out of it all that has made it a place of delight.

There are men who would look upon the giant trees of California, oldest of living growths, and be stirred by no thought save as to the number of feet of lumber into which the stately monarchs of the forest could be sawed. They would buy and sell them if they were permitted. Thus they express the commercial spirit, a greed untempered by humane or generous impulse.

This is exactly the spirit that now devastates the Arroyo Seco, and cannot understand why there should be anybody to object.

SENATORS FOR WAR

The charge is made that the United States and Great Britain have a secret understanding designed to work to the detriment of Japan. Strangely enough the accusation is not framed by Japanese jingoists. It is not thought by Japanese statesmen to be worth considering. It is made most volubly by members of the United States senate. Each one as he does so, seeks to impugn the veracity, the intelligence and the patriotism of better men than himself; trusted men, having the respect of the world.
Each such senator is advocating a policy leading surely to war. And each is falling in public esteem.

When Johnson, Borah and La Follette take their places in the procession of turmoil and dishonor headed by Hearst, they afford a singular spectacle.
Their purpose is difficult to discern. It is not to be believed that they are sincere in their declarations, and yet the misconception they place on the terms of the treaty, suggests a level of stupidity at which it is impossible to believe any of them stands.

For all their shouting, Japan is not perturbed.
The statesmen of that country see through the noisy group, understand the hollowness of its clamor.
Neither are the people of the United States perturbed, but they are puzzled. Frankly, the spectacle of senators engaged in political suicide, is unusual. If a senator is tired of public life, always he has the privilege of resigning, or of declining to run again.
When he chooses, instead of either of these proper courses, a posture sure to invite his constituents to boot him out of office, his methods excite curiosity but no admiration.

AN ERA OF PEACE

There are some Americans who do not care for England. There is more or less prejudice against the Japanese. Other Americans are so truculent that their usual posture is marked by the presence of a chip on the shoulder. However, these facts do not constitute ground for stirring up strife. That a few Americans would like to fight anybody within reach rather than deny themselves the pleasure of fighting at all, is nothing that needs be regarded in the shaping of a national policy.

The circumstance of not being on intimate and friendly terms with an individual is not the slightest excuse for shooting him. If he will go his own way, refraining from molesting his neighbors, nothing else is required for preservation of order. The same rule applies to nations.

If the people of one nation cherish unamiable feelings towards those of another, whether or not valid reasons exist for the opinion thus implied, to have peace between them is none the less desirable. Here and there seems to be the individual unable to grasp the idea that peace has a value of its own. He cannot get rid of the notion that to be fighting is natural, inevitable and rather desirable. The thought that other people long for peace never enters his mind.
Therefore when a treaty is proposed requiring only that all parties to it be decent and honest in mutual relationships, he brays his dissent. Endowed with the qualities of a bully himself, he believes a similar spirit of belligerency broods over the world. A treaty in discouragement of war is condemned by him.
He tries to fight back the tide of peace, and cuts a ridiculous figure at the futile task.

NOT DEALING GENTLY

There is an old admonition to "deal gently with the erring." Doubtless a fine plan under some circumstances. The new wardens of the Chicago prison, has for the present, at least, thrown it into the discard. When there was a mutiny in the institution he summoned guards and subdued the rebellion with clubs. There were a few cracked pates and kindred discomforts, but the prisoners went back to their cells with new respect for the law.

Conditions in Chicago in respect of crime, probably are as bad as any American city ever has known.
Much of the fault is ascribed to the mayor, who was elected by a political machine in which the criminal element was an important factor. Since then the criminals have been accorded unusual privileges. A murder committed by one of them, for instance, is a mere episode. There is not the slightest use in arresting him, for the courts let him go.

It was from the jail in which the recent riot was staged, that a notorious murderer, convicted and sentenced despite the efforts of his pals of the bench and bar, was permitted to escape. He got away by the connivance of jail attaches. Surprisingly enough, the warden then in charge was dismissed for this dereliction. It was his successor who caused the prison pets to be battered lustily. More power to his arm!

POST-WAR GRAFT

Arrest has been made of several men on the charge of swindling the government through a bogus auction. The plan, as described, was for the prices on a lot of army goods to be fixed in advance by the little group who in some manner not yet explained, had won this privilege. If bids more advantageous to the government were received, they were thrown out.
The goods went to the plotters at perhaps one-fourth of the sum naturally to be expected.

Profiteers of the stamp the prisoners seem to be,
might as well realize that the war is over, and wartime methods are out of date. Doubtless the government was robbed freely and mightily in the period when it was engaged in raising and equipping an army. Almost anybody having the impulse to steal at that time, could do so, and likely get away with it. Honest men were too busy trying to do something for their country, to keep tab on thieves.
They assumed, anyhow, that all men were honest, or at least for the nonce, too patriotic to steal. The revelation of the truth, so far as the public ever got it, was a shock.

Much of the surplus stock of the army has been sold for far less than its worth, but this may have been due to exigencies that now have passed. When profiteers bribe themselves into the opportunity of getting goods at their own price, they rob the public twice over, the second time when they sell the booty.

That Bill Haywood is to be a spokesman for soviet Russia at the Genoa conference hardly is to be believed. Not that he would be a fitting representative of bolshevist misrule, but that he places a high value, scarcely warranted by the facts, upon preserving his skin intact. He is safe in Russia for the present, but likely to get caught in the ultimate collapse. Outside of Russia he would have difficulty in finding haven into which the United States could not reach and grab him.

There is said to have been determination in advance of the Genoa conference not to extend loans or credits to the soviet government, or to help Russia in any manner until it has recognized its foreign debt, and restored confiscated property to its pre-war owners. Lenin and Trotsky do not seem to have intimidated the rest of the world into bending to their wills.

CLARENCE DAY

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Just how it has happened that Clarence Day has been writing in the various publications of the country and has escaped my notice up till recently I do not understand.

A copy of his recent book of essays entitled "The Crow's Nest" has reached my desk. I have read it with most appreciative amusement.

Humorous writing is about the most difficult form of literary craftsmanship. I know more bores and failures in this field than in any other.

But it seems to me that the mantle of W. S. Gilbert has fallen upon Clarence Day. I hope he will sooner or later write the book for a comic opera, for he has the attitude of mind as well as the touch of hand that is classic.

I wish especially that his essay on "The Enjoyment of Gloom" could be published in every newspaper in the United States.

For instance, he speaks of Thomas Hardy, a famous old author, now some eighty years of age.
Hardy makes a specialty of dying howls of all kinds. His critics have assumed from this that he can infer his philosophy. They say that he believes that "sorrow is the rule and joy the exception," and that "good-will and courage and honesty are brittle weapons" for us to use in our defense as we pass through such a world.

But, says Mr. Day, Hardy has written some twenty-odd novels and poems. "They make quite an edifice." They represent long years of work.
Could he have been so industrious if he had found the world a chamber of horrors? He might have done one or two novels or poems about it, but how could he have kept on, if he had truly felt the whole thing was hopeless? He kept on, because although sorrows move him he does not feel their weight. He found he could have a good time painting the world's tragic aspects. He is somehow or other so constituted that that's been his pleasure. And he has wanted his own kind of pleasure just as you and I want our kinds. That's fair.

"I like to think that the good old soul has had a lot of fun all his life describing all the gloomiest episodes a person could think of. If a good, gloomy episode comes into his mind, while he's shaving it brightens the whole day and he bustles off to set it down, whistling."

Mr. Day says his cat whose life is principally peace and good food and warm fires hardly makes any noise about these things, at most a mere purr.
But if she gets into a row with "another cat" at night on a back fence her tragic shrieks of anguish fill the air. "Well, Hardy has spent his life in what was chiefly a peaceful era of history, in a liberal and prosperous country, and he personally, too, has had blessings—the blessings of being able,
for instance, to write really good books and the blessing of finding a public to read and admire them. Is any of this reflected in his themes, though? Does he purr? Mighty little. No, he prefers looking around for trouble in "this old world's backyards; he prowls about at night till he comes upon some good hunk of bleakness, and then he sits down, like the cat, to utter long-drawn-out wails, which give him strange, poignant sensations of deep satisfaction. They give us quite other sensations, but he doesn't care. In the morning he canters back in, pleased and happy, for breakfast, and he basks in the sun, blinking sagely, the rest of the day. And we say with respect, 'a great pessimist; he thinks life is all sorrow.'"

THE LISTENING POST

What's wrong with the world?
That is a question frequently asked.
And often answered.
By some specialist or analyst or student or sociologist or other eminently able person.

It seems to be taken for granted that something is wrong.
And many persons are glib to explain.
One giving one reason for the world's troubles.
And another giving some other reason.
When as a matter of fact there is nothing the matter with the world.

The world continues to occupy its place in the universe as it has done from the earliest time of which we know.

And as it did a long time before we knew.
Because nobody knows just how old the world is.

It was here long before any of us.
Or our ancestors.

Geologists speculate as to its age.
But their speculations are rather vague.
And their best guesses may be billions of years off.

Because the duration of geological periods is largely speculative.
Nobody knows exactly.

Down in South America somebody claims to have come upon the trail of a prehistoric monster.

A pterodactyl or a megatherium or a pleiso-saurus or something or other.

Estimated to be ten million years old.
And as to its real age the guess of one person is about as good as another.

Of course, no such animal exists.
Or has been seen.

But it serves to indicate that there were probably strange animals on the earth millions of years ago.

If not billions.
What is a billion years to eternity?

Not a drop of water in the whole ocean of time.

But we know the world is very old.
And man in something like his present form may have existed on it for several hundred thousand years.

SONGS OF THE POETS

The Good-Morrow—John Donne (1573-1631)

I wonder, by my troth, what thou and I Did, till we loved? were we not weaned till them?
But sucked on country pleasures, childishly?
Or snored we in the Seven Sleepers' den?
'Twas so; but this, all pleasures fancies be;
If ever any beauty I did see,
Which I desired, and got, 'twas but a dream of thee.

And now good-morrow to our waking souls,
Which watch not one another out of fear;
For love all love of other sights controls,

And makes one little room an everywhere.
Let sea-discoverers to new worlds have gone;
Let maps to other, worlds on worlds have shown,
Let us possess one world; each hath one, and is one.

My face in thine eye, thine in mine appears,
And true plain hearts do in the faces rest;
Where can we find two fitter hemispheres
Without sharp north, without declining west?
Whatever dies was not mixed equally;
If our loves be one, or thou and I Love just alike in all, one of these loves can die.

JAMES W. FOLEY.

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES

Messages arriving ostensibly from the late venerable Dr. Peabody cannot impair the respect felt for him until he has been proved responsible.

The chances of grafting in army supplies seem to have diminished since the stormy days when almost everybody who tried, got away with it.

An Armenian went back from this state to get a wife and returned with fifteen of 'em, but the court declines to sanction such matrimonial ambidexterity.

It is assumed that while McAdoo practices law in this state, he will pay some attention to politics as a side line.

A perfect girl is to be chosen from a dozen Berkeley co-eds, by experts. The average observer would choose the whole dozen.

The allies seem to think that American soldiers were kept in Germany as a mere act of courtesy.

Senators who are advocating war through their opposition to the four-power treaty must be getting tired of their jobs as statesmen.

Governors of three states, under arrest charged with serious crimes, might form a consolation pact.

The latest riot in the Chicago jail was squelched by simple methods. Guards took clubs and dented the blocks of the leaders. Not pretty but effective.

The professor who intimated that Edison was sentile might as well regard himself as "in bad" with the whole country.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

PETTY GRAFT IN SEEDS

[New York Herald]

The house of representatives has yielded once more to the free seed graft. It has put an item of $360,000 in the agricultural appropriation bill to pay for another distribution of the little parcels of seeds.

It is the general opinion that these free seeds do nobody good. However, the congressman thinks that they help him by calling his constituents' attention to the fact that he is still alive. They are free advertising.

Your real farmer, of course, has no use for the

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

It is only the very young who form the jazz, cheek dancing, petting party, risque multitude of our society—so argue some. There never was a time, say they, in which the older young were more earnestly engaged in self-culture and efforts for the common good. Let us hope that that is all so. But where is the dividing line between the two classes?

The family bibles of our grandmothers (we do not have them today in our homes) give evidence that from fifteen to eighteen was the common age for girls to take up the state of matrimony—after that they were supposed to become staid housewives and graduate into middle age, with its dignity and responsibilities. We don't see much of that today. It may be just as well if we do not. One's girlhood is a treasured possession, not to be lightly given up.
Marrying later brings more maturity of body and mind to meet responsibility—provided we are of the kind of folk that grow up.

Too many of us at present seem inclined to remain children all of our lives. We resist, with more vigor than we resist actual evil, the onslaught of the years. The first wrinkle is a sorrow, the first gray hair a tragedy. We rouse and tilt ourselves on the highest of heels, we enamel faded faces, we acquire the flitting airs of sixteen when we should be safely—and delightfully—merged in motherhood and grandmotherhood.

But all this is perfectly legitimate. The woman of today must make herself attractive, else she is shelved. All of this is true. But we need to remember that personality isn't all physical. An adorned mentality holds attraction—an adorned body merely calls for it.

seeds. When he wants seeds he wants those of which he is certain and he goes or sends to his seed-man. A good farmer declines to take the chance of wasting his labor on doubtful seeds.

As for the cost, what's $360,000 when legislators long since stopped talking or thinking in millions and are using billions generally? An item of $360-000 for free seeds is such a little thing when you compare it with $40,000,000 for the pork barrel bill or five billions for a bonus.

The waste of $360,000 a year in this free seed advertising for congressmen means just the burning up of a thousand dollar bill every day for twelve months!

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Wreck of a Santa Fe passenger train at Azusa seems to have been, at least in the immediate aspect, another of the avoidable accidents that no particular pains were taken to avoid.

Of course, there will be occasional disasters at grade crossings so long as such invitations to catastrophe exist. There is no good reason for driving on a track in the absence of knowledge as to the likelihood of a rushing locomotive reaching the same spot at the same time. Nevertheless, people will drive on the track without the slightest effort to measure the chances they are taking. The consequence of such lack of precaution was seen in a jumble of debris in which the lives of two useful men were crushed out. The loss in property represents a goodly fortune, and inevitable litigation or settlement generally involves another huge sum.

All because a man running a steam roller permitted it to be on the railroad track at a grade crossing regardless of the fact that a swift train
He may not have known that it was approaching.
His business was to have known.

It is not for anybody to rush to judgment on an imperfect knowledge of the facts. Possibly the blame does not rest solely on any individual. However, the circumstance that a heavy machine was in a position to cause death and destruction, was typical. Many drivers steering far more mobile machines than a steam roller, frequently are equally reckless. The difference is that usually they are risking their own lives or those of the people with them.

Evidently the feeling of the allies is that the United States does not need the money. No other reason could be assigned for declination to pay out of the sum received from Germany, the amount due for upkeep of American troops on the Rhine.

The troops had a fairly good time. Their American money was very effective. A few of them married German girls. No extremely hard duty had to be performed. Nevertheless, the troops were there at the earnest solicitation of the allies. It is not the nicest courtesy to invite guests and tell them to foot the bill themselves.

Mr. Edison has in mind some currency system different from the one now in vogue. When he wrote to one college professor about it, he received a reply virtually accusing him of senility, and clearly implying the ignorance of the inventor.

Inventing a currency system is an undertaking far different from those in which Edison has been so successful. It is possible that he had wandered into economic paths where he will have to step carefully or get tripped. Even at that, no college professor has earned the right to be discourteous to one of the great men of the age.

The longer congress keeps in session, the worse appear to be the prospects of the army and navy. A long session probably would result in the effacement of both arms of defense.

It is not pleasing to think of General Pershing and a bunch of admirals anxiously scanning the "Help Wanted" column.

Mississippi has rejected the bill for granting equal rights to women in that state.

Mississippians are noted for chivalry. They even shuddered and were conscious of cold feet, at the proposition to permit women to vote.

A woman being informed by her doctor that at the utmost she had but two years to live began to "go the pace." She intended to crowd into the brief period all the enjoyment possible. Her course led her to the divorce court, where she even lost the custody of her child. And the final period growing shorter all the time.

Recently a man under sentence of death procured a respite of a week in which to prepare for the end. The time being up, he went to his doom without flinching. Very different from the course of the woman, who with two years to prepare, chose not to prepare at all.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

For the first time in my life I saw Hickey this morning. It may be for the last time in my life. I do not even know his name, except that persons who strolled by the entrance to his garage addressed him affectionately as "Hickey." Sometimes, being in a hurry, they cut it short to "Hick."

"How they comin' Hick?" they would ask.
"Rollin' high," said Hickey.

Yet, in this brief acquaintance—which was marked on my part by giving Hickey $4 to take me in his auto stage to the place to which I wished to go—I conceived an admiration for Hickey. He has high qualities. He may be a trifle messed up with the lighter form of cylinder oil just now, but the time will come when Hickey will part his hair in the middle and wear spats when he goes down town, and more savvy than the average human being, because:

He knows when to quit, and

He doesn't whine when he is licked.

Hickey confided in me, partly in response to my partly because the human animal likes to take his trouand a departing stranger is about as impersonal a per-imagined, that he is losing money on his auto stage.

to quit. It comes hard for him, he said, because the mercy gave him a banquet when he opened this arter-tion with an outside world, and he is employing sevsands, and his wife is set against his quitting.

"I'd never be a quitter," said this lady. Never most tin-horners of the same too, had she ever been up-tion that some one else did not decide for her. It makes Hickey, but it has not affected his judgment.

"I don't want to quit," said he. "But the truth is, look far enough ahead when I went into this thing. Now where I'm at, I'm going to put out before I'm blown out, nutriment in sending good money after bad."

If all the rest of us had savvy enough to know when licked—and come back to the reservation and pull the feathers our hair—most of us would be a lot better off.

The people who hang on after they're thoroughly licked are heroes—oh, well, why be nasty. The people who hang on after they're licked ARE heroes.

DO YOU KNOW THAT?

Most of the platinum produced in the United States is recovered as a secondary mineral from placer operations and from the electrolytic refining of gold bullion and blister copper.

Most onion growers obtain their seed from the Canary Islands; large quantities of seed are also obtained from California.

In 1900 32 different shades of green were used in signal glasses on American railways. Now all have been standardized on one hue.

As the result of a series of tests made by the bureau of mines with the geophone, it has been determined that a pure nickel diaphragm is best suited for detecting sounds through natural strata over long distances.

Stoves, ranges, house-heating boilers and hot-air furnaces are as a rule intended for the use of anthracite coal or coke. When ever bituminous coal is burned in such furnaces all the principles of combustion are violated and smoke results.

MISSIONARY WORKER IN PULPIT BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. F. A. Davies Supplies
for Rev. E. E. Ford, Who Is Ill

Dr. Frederick A. Davies, a missionary worker of the Baptist denomination in California, occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church yesterday, Rev. Ford, the pastor, being absent on account of illness. He said in part:

"I hear that you folks are going to start the construction of a new building soon and I congratulate you with all my heart. I want to tell you something. Unless you put God first in your church your new building will be worthless. One man with God is better than the whole building without Him. One of the great dangers of these days is to put the material first."

"This is the great danger in the work of missions, for this work depends so largely on money. But in all our transactions our money must be backed by God. I never put money first in my life. My equipment are put first, we might as well give up our Christian work. We are made or broken in this work or the next by our contact with God."

"There are one hundred young men in Glendale this week in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. I am proud to stand for the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. and for the things for which those organizations stand. This is one of the grandest organizations in the world today."

"The old world is filled with distrust—it is seething as a result of the world war. It is ripe for the reception of all things that are not for the interest of mankind. It is practically inviting disaster. The only cure for this troubled condition is Jesus Christ. If serious trouble is to be stopped, we must come down and take hold of the leaders of these men. If the world is to be made better the big men of the churches must get into action."

"The Baptist people are doing their best to get under the load. We have promised $50,000,000 for missions, and only half of this amount has been paid. The other half must be raised by May 1. The Baptist church is confronted with a difficult situation. If we are going to keep our missionaries in the field we must raise this $50,000,000. On the other hand, it will take more to bring these missionaries home than it will to keep them there for two years—so what are we to do? There is only one answer—raise the money. God will help us if we contract to do this work."

Mrs. Park Arnold sang very sweetly "Resignation" by Cara at this service.

MARYLAND HEIGHTS IS BOOMING

Everything is humming along over at Maryland Heights, which lies two blocks east of the new Glendale high school site. During the past few days the demand for homes in this section has increased wonderfully. This is attributed to a great extent to the fact that the weather is becoming warmer, and that the cold wave recently experienced by Southern California is rapidly passing. Tourists from the east are rapidly coming to this section and many are arriving with the intention of investing here. There are hundreds who intend some day to purchase a site here, put up a home and make their permanent residence in Glendale. These are the people who, now that the weather is warming up, are heading for our beautiful section.

Every lot in Maryland Heights is a jewel. The entire tract is high and dry and commands a wonderful view of the country to the south. All of the improvements have already been completed in this tract, these including street work, sidewalks, water, gas, etc., and everything is ready for the home builder to start work on his new "nest." A number of good purchases have been made in this subdivision during the past few days, several of the sites being secured by local investors. C. W. Jackman, sales manager of the tract, stated this morning that everything is encouraging and that the future for the tract is unusually bright.

Circle Real Estate Co.
A beautiful little Southern California town has been put to the office of the Circle Real Estate company, 120 North Brand boulevard, by the placing in the window of potted plants, ferns, palms, etc. A call at this office gives a person a feeling that "spring is here," and a few minutes' talk with the members of this firm convinces one that there is something doing these days in the real estate business.

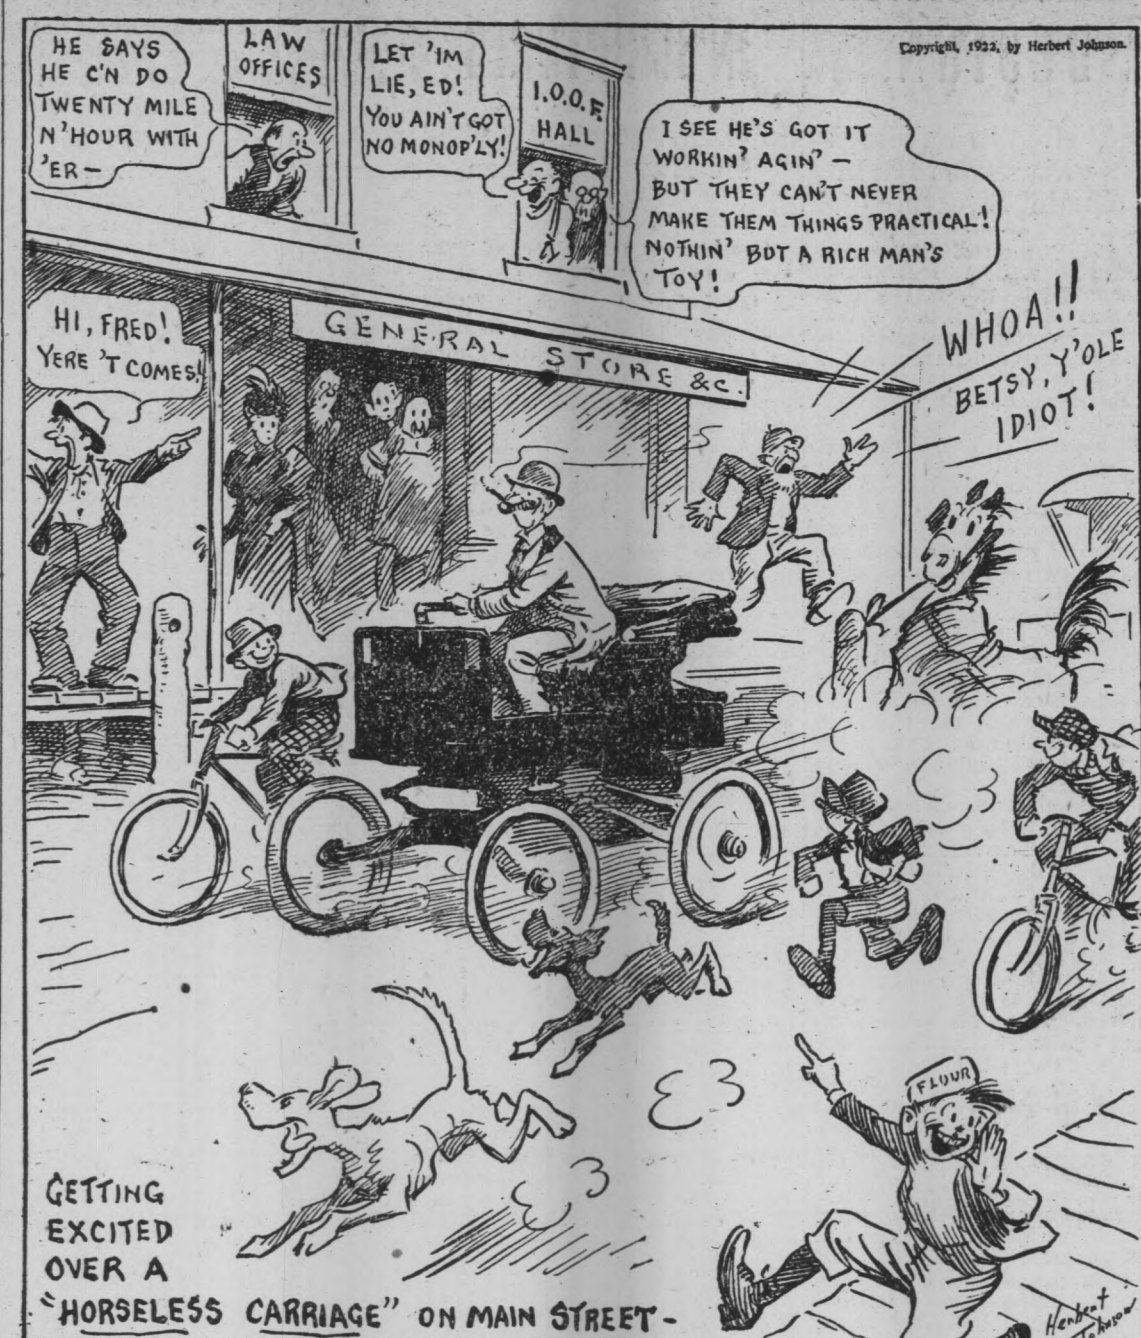

Hamilton Starts Home
E. R. Hamilton of the firm of Smith-Babcock-Hamilton, 204 East Broadway, has just completed the erection of a $2500 residence at 216 North Jackson street, which he and his family are now occupying. A three-room dwelling at the rear of the lot has just been started by Mr. Hamilton and will be rented when finished.

A youthful chicken fancier had in his possession a couple of small eggs. Finally he hit upon a plan to remedy this fault.
When the lad's father went to the chicken house he was surprised to find an ostrich egg tied to one of the beams, and above it a card with this notice: "Keep your eye on this and do your best."

The trouble with a jealous woman is that she can't keep the lid on.

PONY EXPRESS REUNION IS HELD

Four Old Men Get Together in Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—Four old men trotted to a reunion here recently. They were the last survivors of the famous "Pony Express" of the pioneer days of California. The Wells-Fargo-Nevada Bank was host. The company established the first trans-continental stage line to California in 1858, and started the pony express two years later. Stories and romances of the famous organization make some of the most fascinating chapters of the history of the old pioneer west. The old veterans of the service swapped tales of Indian raids and bandits and hold-ups. The four survivors are William Pridham, former pony express rider; J. M. Sieber, old-time manager of the pony express at Virginia City; Rev. "Pop" Barger, driver of an overland stage, and Aaron Y. Ross, shotgun messenger guarding the old gold shipments.

DUTY ON LEATHER STARTS SENATE FRACAS

Opposition Rouses Farmer Members by Finance Committee's Action

Washington, March 27.—Senate finance committee action in putting a duty on hides, boots, shoes and leather, is destined to start a fight in congress, the consequences of which may be as great as those of the row a decade ago over "schedule K" in the Payne-Aldrich bill.

The proposed tariff, if retained, will make shoes cost from 30 to 50 cents a pair more than at present, according to authoritative figures, furnished the United Press today.

Representative Hawley, Oregon, formerly for such a tariff, is now strongly opposed to it. As the tariff bill passed the house, hides, boots, shoes and leather were on the free list. The senate finance committee republicans, however, determined upon a 15 per cent ad valorem duty on hides, a ten per cent ad valorem on boots and shoes and 10 to 25 percent on leather.

Hawley figures that only the packer-tanner would benefit from the new regime. The farmer-stockman would get an estimated $34,000,000 for his products, but he and his farm workers would have to pay $38,600 more for their products than would be the case under a free listing. He estimates that the average increase in the prices of shoes would be forty cents a pair.

In addition to the hides battles, there will be a fight on the sugar schedule and probably on the lumber schedule. Louisiana, the great cane growing state, wants two cents a pound duty on Cuban sugar while the committee republicans have fixed the rate at 1.6 cents a pound. Likewise, the Louisiana growers are displeased with the mild treatment accorded blackstrap molasses, used for feeding cattle.

PEACE IS PLEDGED BY IRISH LEADER

Collins Says Ulster Premier Must Alter Attitude, However

DUBLIN, March 27.—Michael Collins, as head of the southern provisional government, today issued a statement that he and his colleagues were doing their utmost to preserve peace in Ireland. Collins said solution of Ireland's difficulties was impossible until Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, altered his attitude toward the south of Ireland. The forbidden convention of Irish republican army leaders ended today, after voting to maintain the army to support the "republic of Ireland."

U. S. TEACHERS ARE HIPPIED BY ENGLISH FOURTH RATERS

So Declares British Lecturer in Discussion on Literature

OAKLAND, Cal., March 27.—That American teachers of literature, particularly in the colleges and universities of this country, are hypnotized by fourth-rate English novelists, and devote more time and attention to them than they do to a number of excellent American novelists, is the charge made here by John Cowper Powys, English lecturer. "Such novelists as these English fourth-raters make no impression in England, yet your American teachers pick them and exalt them in this country. There is no reason why the great American public, seeking for culture, should turn blindly to England and take everything offered. There are plenty of excellent contemporary novelists, and the number is increasing regularly."

LIVING FROM ONE ACRE IS POSSIBLE

The agricultural section of the Men's club of the Tropic Presbyterian church had an excellent meeting at the church Friday night. The talk, the last of a series, was made by Prof. Malcolm, his topic being: "An Acre of Ground and a Living."

He showed how it is possible in California for an industrious man to provide a living for the average family and make a profit by the raising of chickens and vegetables on an acre of ground.

Sunshine in the house pays as big returns as sunshine in the fields. If some men had the brains they think they have their legs wouldn't be able to carry them.

THREE 8-OARED CREWS TAKE TO WATER

Coach Leader Prepares for Pacific Coast Campaign

SEATTLE, Wash., March 27.—Three eight-oared varsity racing crews and three freshmen eight are taking the water, on Lake Washington daily under the watchful eye and stentorian commands of Coach Ed Leader, preparing for the Pacific coast regatta April 22 against the University of California. Two eights will go against the Golden Gate's finest over the three-mile course in an endeavor to win the right to represent the Pacific coast in the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., later in the year.

Five members of the 1921 crew which lost to California by a scant five feet on the Oakland estuary last spring are back on their slides and are sure of an oarlock in this year's tussle with the Bruins. Additional weight and oarsmanship are also available from last year's victorious freshman crew, and in Leader's opinion the crew this year will surpass even last year's aggregation, considered unbeatable until they hit California, with an average weight of 175 against last year's 169.

If the weather is fair and the lake calm, a new course, crossing the lake and finishing in the Lake Washington-Lake Union canal, permitting thousands of spectators to watch the race, will be used for the regatta April 22. The course affords straight rowing for four miles. If the weather is bad or the day windy, the old course will be used.

MT. BALDY CLIMBED BY EAGLE ROCK SCHOLARS

About 50 pupils from the Eagle Rock schools, and several teachers hiked to the top of Mt. Baldy Saturday and returned the same evening, reporting a wonderful time in the snow and hiking. Two trucks took the party to the foot of Mt. Baldy, one truck headed through the courtesy of P. H. Decker of Eagle Rock.

The teachers who went were Miss Christensen, Miss Londergun and Miss Maggling, with Principal and Mrs. Harwood and Mrs. E. B. Moore of Glendale, and Misses Ruth and Matilda Harwood. The party left Eagle Rock about 4:30 Saturday morning and stopped at Glendora for breakfast. They then drove on to Baldy and reached the top about 11:30 where they built a bonfire and roasted weiners and ate their lunch.

After playing in the snow for some time the party started down, stopping at Camp Baldy and arrived in Eagle Rock about 7 o'clock, everyone reporting a wonderful time.

The mother took her baby to be christened. The clergyman, who knew her personally, dipped his pen in the ink and prepared to fill in the necessary papers.

When he came to the space reserved for the date he said generally: "Let me see, this is the 8th, isn't it?"

"Certainly not!" said the indignant mother. "We've only been married three years."

RIALTO STOCK CO. OPENS SPOKEN DRAMA HERE

Little Tent Theatre to Test Interest of Community in Comedy Play

Tonight, Monday, all amusement roads in Glendale will lead to Orange and Harvard streets, where the Tent Theatre "different," housing the Babcock Rialto Stock company, will inaugurate a week of varied entertainment of a kind which will undoubtedly attract tremendous audiences.

Spoken drama, each of which is a proven modern success, augmented by several vaudeville acts and a ladies' orchestra, at absurdly small admission prices due to the large capacity of the amphitheatre, will make up the inducements, and if the offering is found worthy, as unquestionably it will be, then amusement fans will revel in the new diversion.

Clever advertising may attract the attention and patronage of a vast multitude, but if the offering fails to please immensely, it defeats the very ends sought, a fact shrewd theatrical men learned long ago.

The gripping comedy-drama, "My Jim," will be the initial play, and it is said to be as full of quaint philosophy and merriment as the proverbial egg is of meat. Since the scenery of the moving picture spoken drama has been confined to the largest cities almost exclusively, and the privilege of witnessing wholesome plays well presented is one worthy of more than mere mention.

Coupons published by The Press admitting the lady readers to free admission tonight are as valuable as its equivalent in "coin of the realm," the purpose of the Babcock Rialto Stock company management being to attract those who might be a bit skeptical. This in itself is proof of merit, and he speaks confidence to those who reason things out.

The doors will open at 7:30, while the play starts at 8 o'clock sharp. The entire show occupies about two hours and 15 minutes of time, and it is promised there isn't an idle moment from beginning to end.

CHRISTIAN CALL IS HEARD IN GLENDALE

"music while you eat" furnished by Merle Waterman of Long Beach. Over this function and the session which followed the new president, George Jordan, presided.

The afternoon meeting was held in the auditorium of the Intermediate school and opened with reports from various Hi Y clubs. Harold Wagner, baseball manager of Occidental, then took charge of the meeting which was devoted to testimony given by the boys relative to the benefits they had derived from the conference. This lasted about an hour and a half and at the end of that time all the delegates joined hands and sang "Blest be the tie that binds," the conference being dismissed by Mr. Holmes, general secretary of the San Diego Hi Y.

Resolutions presented by the resolutions committee and adopted by the conference were: Be it resolved, that in recognition of their part in making this conference so successful we express to the people of Glendale our sincere appreciation of the hospitality extended by them; to the churches of Glendale for the splendid way in which they and their pastors have cooperated with the Y. M. C. A. and especially to Dr. C. M. Crist and Rev. Ford for the use of their churches; to the ladies of the First Methodist church for serving the splendid supper Saturday evening; to Mr. and Mrs. Thatcher for the dinner served to us at Intermediate school; to the newspapers for the publicity given the conference; to speakers and leaders for inspiring messages which they brought to the delegates of the conference; to Mr. White and the board of education for the use of the school; to the men who interviewed the delegates; to the Glendale Hi Y and Secretary Rex Kelly for work in arranging details of the conference; to Ralph Cole and those associated with him on the state staff for planning the conference.

Be it also resolved that we believe that much good has been accomplished by this conference and that many boys have decided to give their lives to definite Christian service; that every delegate will give his best for the Master in whatever occupation he may be led to follow.

Further be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to every person or organization herein mentioned. Signed: Roscoe Guyot, Martin Fisher, Ted Smith and Fred Switzer, chairman.

NEAR EAST RELIEF PRIZE CONTEST

Announcement was made today by the Near East relief of a nationwide essay or oration contest among high school students for prizes offered by Hon. Henry Morgenthau, former U. S. Ambassador to Turkey.

Mr. Morgenthau has offered $2000 to be distributed among the prize winners. Three prizes, one of $500, one of $200 and one of $100, will be awarded the authors of the essay or oration adjudged to be the three best in the country. A first prize of $15, a second prize of $10 and a third prize of $5 will be awarded in each state.

Send essays from any part of Southern California to P. Sims, state director, 517 Wright & Calender building, Los Angeles. The manuscript must contain not less than 1500 nor more than 2000 words.

The thrilling motion picture, "Alice in Wonderland," as given at the Glendale theatre last evening, was the opening gun for Glendale's Near East relief day, bursting in full swing this coming Sunday in all the churches, Sunday schools, young people's societies and other religious organizations.

This will be followed by presentation of the worthy cause in the civic and fraternal and other organizations throughout the city the week following.

This wonder film, a dramatic story, based on actual scenes and conditions in picturesque Constantinople, and other seamed-up cities of bible lands, will be shown also at the T. D. & L. theatre at this coming Saturday's matinee, from 2 to 5. Those who failed to see it last night will have this additional opportunity.

William Martin, aged five, ran into his grandmother's bedroom with a small kitten he had picked up in the street and asked if he might keep it. He also asked if it were a "boy cat" or a "girl cat," as he wanted to give it a name. His grandmother told him she would find out and that he might keep the kitten. The next day he burst into the room in great glee and announced: "I named her Mary."

"How did you find out it was a 'girl cat'?" his grandmother asked. "Well," replied William, "I watched her and she washed her face and she washed her ears and she washed behind her ears and she washed behind her ears and she washed behind her ears."

A soldier entered a restaurant and ordered a beefsteak. He waited ten minutes or so. Then a waitress brought a large plate in the center of which a small piece of meat rested. The soldier turned it over and examined it carefully. Then he said pleasantly: "Yes, that's the sort of thing; bring me some."

SIGHT SEEING IN UNIVERSE AMAZES AUDIENCE

Solar System Close Up Pictures Shown by Evangelist Knox

Those who attended the second lecture on Astronomy of Rev. Philip L. Knox, Tuesday evening, in the Central school auditorium, had a rare treat. The screen pictures of the earth's solar system, accompanied by the explanations and amazing figures given by the lecturer last week, were but an introduction to the still more wonderful views and facts of "Sight Seeing Through the Universe," which was the subject of this week's lecture. The audience learned about the various systems—group, cluster, nebula, etc.—with their revolutions, independent and around other systems, until finally everything in space revolves around a common gravity center. The pictures shown, which were obtained through the largest telescopes of the world, were awe-inspiring in their beauty and evidences of a marvelous power controlling the universe. Prof. D. Nutri plays the harp before each lecture. The subject of the final lecture next week will be "Other Worlds Inhabited."

DUNLOP MEETINGS BURBANK HIGH SCHOOL NEEDS AT BURBANK ARE WELL ATTENDED

Evangelists Fill Presbyterian Church With Good Audiences

Keen interest is being manifested and large crowds are attending the Dunlop meetings at the Burbank Presbyterian church. The high school enthusiastically received Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop and with their music and stirring address all hearts were thrilled. Music is a feature of this meeting each night and, with a fine orchestra, and a chorus choir, Mrs. Dunlop is proving herself a masterful leader.

Some of the slogans brought out in Dr. Dunlop's address Friday night were: "Sin is as unsatisfied at the end as at the beginning"; "Be sure your sin will find you out"; and "Get right with God."

"The unpardonable sin," said Dr. Dunlop, "is the continued and obstinate rejection of God's will for your life until He withdraws His holy spirit from you and leaves you in your doomed and damned condition. Do not dare God to foreclose the mortgage on your sinful life, but see His mercy today. You cannot with safety presume upon God's mercy. He has not promised to be at your back, and fall. It will not take a hundred sins to damn your soul, but just one sin you love that you cannot refuse to give up. Let Jesus do for you that which you cannot do for yourself. You can be the man you ought to be by the help of Christ."

Some of his themes for this week are: "Where are the Deceitful?" "The Bible Doctrine of Hell," "What is the Unpardonable Sin?" "Humbly Excuses." Each night at 7:30 at the Presbyterian church. All are welcome to enjoy these meetings.

BURBANK FATHERS TABLE STEVENSON SEWER PLAN

Petition for New Improvement District Is Ordered Filed

The board of trustees of the city took action at its last meeting relative to the much discussed sewer, and the following resolution was adopted: "Be it resolved that the petition signed by William Stevenson and 199 others, requesting that certain territory in the city of Burbank be formed into a municipal improvement district, to be known as municipal improvement district No. 1, of the city of Burbank, and to create a bonded indebtedness in the sum of $100,000 for the acquisition of a sewer in said district, be received and filed."

A movement has been started to open Fourth street in the territory between Providencia and Alameda avenues and Sixth and Fourth, or the Pacific Electric railway. A petition was filed with the board, signed by residents and property owners within this territory, asking that action be taken toward opening this district, and it was moved by Myers and seconded by Hams that this action be taken with understanding that the city pay 20 per cent of the expense necessary to obtain the property required for the opening.

The city clerk was instructed to notify the board of underwriters that the city proposes to include that of Burbank in the plan, as required by them for factories, in the vicinity of the railroad tracks, at the next bond election. The position of city judge, which has been held for several months by Judge J. H. Avery, was declared vacant, according to a motion by Crawford, seconded by Myers, this action being taken because of the illness of Judge Avery. It was moved by Rouscup and seconded by Myers that A. A. Crawford be appointed to this position at the present salary, to take effect immediately.

A communication was received by the board from the Burbank electric shop relative to installing a large electric sign on San Fernando boulevard or other prominent place. After discussing the matter, it was referred to a committee composed of Trustees Hams, Crawford and Myers.

After the allowing of bills the meeting adjourned.

On Saturday night the Misses Monzella Roach, Josephine Manners and Mildred McGuire entertained 37 young folks at the Women's club rooms. Music, dancing and games were indulged in and an abundance of delicious refreshments was served by the hostesses. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. G. S. Roach and Mr. and Mrs. LeDuc.

Mr. and Mrs. George De Forris expect to move into their newly completed home at 826 Verdugo avenue in a few days. Their present home has been rented by Miss Weems of Memphis, Tenn., who, with her sister and family, also from Memphis, will occupy it the first of April.

Walter Wheelchel and family, of Fullerton, will very soon come to Burbank to make their home with Mr. Wheelchel's father on Verdugo avenue. Mr. Wheelchel is now employed at Montebello but thinks he will enter business here in the near future.

Parent-Teacher Assn. of Grammar School Hear From Prof. Clark

An interesting meeting of the Parent-Teacher association was held Wednesday afternoon at the grammar school, when very helpful addresses were made by Miss Esther Weststock on the subject of "Physical Education in the High Schools," and by Prof. J. N. Clark on "Present and Future Needs in the Burbank High School." Both of these speakers emphasized the need of a playground for the girls separate from that which the boys use, and both expressed the hope that when the new high school is used next fall, provision will be made for this.

The high school girls' chorus entertained very nicely and showed the good training they have had under Prof. White, in the rendition of two numbers.

Mrs. E. H. Harding, president of the association, presided, and refreshments were served.

Just as the meeting closed Mrs. John Robert White of Glendale, prominent in the Parent-Teacher federation of that city, appeared and announced the district meeting of the federation, which is to be held all day, April 4, at the First Methodist church in that city, and urged that as many as possible attend from Burbank.

BURBANK WOMAN CLUB TO HEAR MRS. YALE

Returns From Conference of Legislative Committees at Los Angeles

Mrs. Margaret D. Yale attended the conference of legislative committees of the various women's clubs of Los Angeles county, which was held in Los Angeles last Saturday. At this conference legislative bills which will come before the people at the next election were discussed and the best way to present every side of them to the members of the clubs. Mrs. Yale will make a report to the Women's club at the next meeting.

TEACH ONE TO WIN ONE'S SLOGAN OF SUNDAY CLASS

Mrs. L. G. Parker and Daughter Entertain Their Pupils

On Tuesday night Mrs. L. G. Parker was hostess for her Sunday school class, at which time a business session was held and the class organized by the election of officers, who are: President, Ray Short; secretary, Velta LeMasters; and treasurer, Verna Short. The officers will hold their places until the first of the year. The particular objects for which the class will work are to have every one carry a bible; to have each one study the lessons and "each one to win one." The class is made up of the young men and women of the Christian church Sunday school and numbers 24.

During the afternoon Miss Audrey Parker entertained her class of little girls. Games and guessing contests provided a good time for the children and the serving of nice refreshments was a joy to the little guests. There are 18 on the roll of this class.

SUNSET CANYON CAFE CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Kirkman of the Ramsey apartments, entertained the Sunset Canyon cafe club at 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday. The viands were delicious and the decorations throughout the rooms were beautiful. Mrs. Kirkman's daughter, Mrs. Shelton of Los Angeles, was a guest. Prizes were won by Mesdames Herrmann, Wilson, Shelton and Fraser.

Sunday morning, the members of the men's bible class of the Christian church will gather at the land Park, where they will visit the remarkable class of enthusiastic Sunday school men, and learn the secret of its development. All members of the class are requested to come in their cars, if they have such, and plan to take some one who does not have a car.

D. A. Hartley and wife and Glen Hartley and wife of 274 Verdugo avenue are planning to return to their farm near Keokuk, Ia., within the next few months. They are very sorry to leave Burbank but feel that they must return to their land.

C. OF C. HOME AND CERRITOS GIRLS ARMORY PROPOSED FOR BURBANK

Sec. Colburn Points Way; Local Building, Loan Assn. Boosted

At the Wednesday luncheon of the chamber of commerce the general topic was "Home Building" and just before the close of the talk session, Secretary Colburn arose and said he had been inspired by the previous speakers to say that he should at once take steps to secure a home for the chamber of commerce and at the same time provide a home for company I, 160th Infantry, California national guards. Explaining his plan further, Mr. Colburn said that the chamber was incorporated with a building fund of $1400, which was available upon order of the board of directors, also that there was provision for the payment of $1000 yearly as rent for an armory. By erecting a building which would constitute an armory this rental would constitute the proposed building a possibility so far as financing it was concerned.

Following Mr. Colburn, Capt. Frank C. Tillson spoke of his hopes for an armory and confirmed the statement made regarding the amount of rental which would be paid as soon as a suitable building should become available. He spoke of the great need of such a place, stating that the present quarters of the company were wholly inadequate, and suggested that the most suitable location for armory purposes would be adjoining vacant lots, where drilling might be done. At present the company must either go out on the side streets, which are poorly lighted for such a purpose, or drill on San Fernando boulevard, where they are constantly interrupted by the stream of traffic.

This luncheon was the first since the new order of chairman was inaugurated, which is that some member of the chamber shall have charge of preparing the program and then officiating as toastmaster. On this occasion James C. Crawford, realtor and member of the city board of trustees, served very successfully in this capacity and also spoke interestingly on the subject of the building and loan associations.

He spoke of this phase of investment as very safe in California, where the laws are strict, and every association under state supervision. He said this was one instance of where a person might act on his own and still have it for his own benefit. He said that on this investment one might in later realize a large lump sum, and be made mention of what might be realized if a child was made beneficiary of a building and loan investment.

Mr. King, the second speaker, in referring to this, added that the beneficiary in securing an education. Before closing his address, Mr. Crawford said that frequently one could not get the right perspective when too close to an object, but he hoped that no one would forget that Burbank had an organization which was seeking to assist any home builder, and that it was solely for Burbank and not for outside districts.

J. J. King, manager of the Burbank building and loan association, and an expert on his subject, explained a number of points relative to the workings of the association. He said there were two types of associations, mutual, which is common to all states, and semi-mutual, which is peculiar to California. This style predominates in Southern California, and is the class to which the local association belongs, the particular feature of this class being the guarantee capital.

King spoke of the balance wheel which a home is to a man and the advantage to any community to have a home-owning citizenry rather than a rent-paying population, and that the building and loan associations were the means by which a community might become home owners. He stated that the Burbank association had made good progress during the short time in which it had been organized.

After announcement was made that A. C. Fillbach would be the chairman for the next meeting, the members adjourned.

Wednesday evening the annual church meeting and dinner of the Tropico Presbyterian church will be held when reports of officers and heads of departments will be given and a vote will be taken on a permanent pastor. Dr. Blue has been the minister of the church several weeks and the church has been without a permanent pastor since the resignation of Rev. O. P. Rider several months ago. The dinner will be served at the church by members of the Ladies' Aid at 6:30 p. m.

Even the temperate buzz saw has been known to take three fingers.

BAPTIST MISSION DRIVE STARTS IN GLENDALE

Roy L. Kent Secures Immediate Action, Setting Aside Construction

At the close of the morning services at the First Baptist church yesterday, Roy L. Kent, superintendent of the Sunday school, moved that the beginning of the drive for funds for the construction of a new church, which was to have started Easter morning, be postponed for about two months, in order that the entire effort of the church may be centralized on the drive for missions. This was seconded and unanimously adopted.

Rev. Eugene Haines delivered the discourse at the evening service.

How to Figure Your Want Ad

Count five average words to each line. The address at the foot of your Want Ad is counted also. Each number, initial, etc., counts as one word. For example, the name, "John C. Smith," is three words. "212 W. Main Street" is four words; "160 acres, 3 miles from railroad, $300 per acre," is nine words, etc. In case you want a keyed or "blind" address used instead, indicate so above. The "blind" address comprises five words and will be counted as part of your advertisement.

PAST COMMANDER HASKINS TELLS OF CIVIL WAR

Meeting of N. P. Banks Post and Corps Is Well Attended

The regular all-day meeting and dinner given to the N. P. Banks Post and Corps at the G. A. R. hall was given on Friday. Commander Barrett presided over the meeting.

After the dinner a program was given which was opened by the Star Spangled Banner, with Mrs. Lillian Packham at the piano. Past Commander Haskins gave a talk on the war of '61 and the world war. This was followed by a splendid talk by Commander Palmer of Kenosau Post, Los Angeles.

The next number was an address by Commander Clark of N. P. Banks post. There were six members of the Kenosau Corps of Los Angeles present.

Mrs. Larkin, president of the corps, gave a little address and took $5 worth of tickets for the old soldiers' benefit to be held March 31 at the Glendale theatre.

Commander Henry of N. P. Banks post sang a song entitled "The Streets are Paved With Gold." The meeting closed with the singing of America, and this was followed by a short business meeting of the Women's Relief Corps.

MEEKER MANOR IS BOOMING SAYS BUILDER

Intensive Construction by Lot Purchasers Is Reported

"Things are certainly booming along the building line over in the Meeker's Orange Manor," said the manager of the Irving Building company, 337 Ivy street, this morning. "It seems as though practically every person who has secured property in the tract has done so with the intention of erecting a home just as soon as possible. Some of these prospective builders are old-time residents of Glendale, but the large majority of the buyers are from out of town, this demonstrating the fact that the outsiders still have their eyes on Glendale."

The Irving Building company consists of I. S. Hanger and W. J. Bruggeman. This company is one of the most active of those engaged in erecting homes in Meeker's Orange Manor. At this time they have several homes under construction and it is their intention to start others within a short time. The members of this firm are very enthusiastic over the prospects of this tract and they believe that for several months to come there will be more building activity in this tract than in any other single subdivision in Glendale.

TUJUNGA WATER RATES ARE EXPLAINED

Harry B. Lynch Issues Statement Explaining Company's Position

TUJUNGA, March 27.—A great deal of discussion has arisen concerning the proposed increase in Tujunga water rates and Harry B. Lynch, president of the Haines Canyon Water company has issued the following statement explaining the company's position:

"It is not proposed to double the present water rates or to make any drastic general raise. My own opinion is that the consumer who is using anywhere from 400 to 1000 cubic feet of water per month is paying a just rate under the present schedule and that his charge should not be increased. It is in the matter of minimum charges and in the charge for large quantities of water that rate adjustments should be made.

"Five per cent of our customers pay only 50 cents per month, 22 per cent pay 75 cents per month and 28 per cent pay $1 per month. We cannot furnish water at these rates and meet our expenses. Nor can we afford to furnish irrigation water at 6 cents per 100 cubic feet. The operating cost of pumping water from our well to the 1940-foot reservoir is 8.8 cents per 100 cubic feet for operation only, exclusive of depreciation and not taking into account loss of water by evaporation and leakage. By far the larger proportion of our consumers are supplied through the 1940-foot reservoir. The water stands at 1345 feet in our wells, which means practically a 600-foot lift. The lift at Glendale is 290 feet, at La Crescenta and Eagle Rock it is 400 feet, and these are the heaviest lifts I know of in this part of the state.

"The statement of revenue and expense in our application to the railroad commission does not tend to show average conditions. Last year was the worst year in California history, owing to the fact that the water supply was so low. It would not be fair to base new rates either on last year's figures or on this year's figures. They should be based on average conditions, which nearly as they can be determined.

"It is not true that the cost of supplying water is increasing per consumer as the number of users grows. On the other hand it is growing less. When this company had only 280 consumers it was operating at a greater proportionate loss than now. The system was then in a formative stage and the water company simply stood the loss. With over 1100 consumers at the present time the concern should be on a self-supporting basis. If rate adjustments are made now that will put the water company on a sound financial basis I do not think they will have to be raised again. On the other hand reductions should be the order in the future."

Mr. Lynch said that in keeping account of costs a sharp distinction is made between operating expenses and installation costs. Operating expense includes repair work, cost of reading meters, cost of electric power and a part of the superintendent's salary and other overhead charges. The purchase and laying of mains and pipes, purchase and installation of meters and a part of the overhead expense and salaries are charged as investment. Revenues of the company are not expected to repay investment charges but only interest thereon.

Property owners who pay for laying pipes through their subdivisions are repaid the whole amount they have advanced as users locate along the lines and they become operators.

At a mass meeting to be held in Bolton hall tomorrow night a committee from the chamber of commerce will report on action taken to oppose the proposed rate increase.

BILL HART TODAY AT THE T. D. & L.

Deep psychology the finding of a man's soul, a drama of the most compelling type, gripping and sustained as to plot and bristling with incident—such is "Travelin' On," the new William S. Hart production, a Paramount picture, which will be seen at the T. D. & L. theatre for the last time today.

In the leading role of "J. B." Mr. Hart excels all previous work. His character depiction is a work of art and his supporting cast is powerful. Ethel Grey Terry is the leading woman, and her beauty and forceful acting make her ideal. It is a tale of the unbridled West, thirty or forty years ago—a story that brings the blood tingling to one's cheeks and causes the spectator to sit spellbound till the final scene.

Mr. Hart had the story "up his sleeve" for a long time, and finally developed it into its present striking form. It was produced with skill and cleverness, and it touches the deepest recesses of the heart in its steady development to a smashing climax.

RETAIL FOOD PRICES
WASHINGTON, March 27.—The retail cost of food on March 15 this year was still from 26 to 51 per cent higher than 1913, the department of labor estimated today, based on investigation in ten representative cities of the country. Decreases, however, were registered for the month ending March 15 over the previous month.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

JAMES W. FOLEY

THE UNSUNG

A song is sung for the hero.
A paean of praise to rise
With shout and cheer.
So here's a tear
For the man who does—and dies.

A laurel wreath for the victor.
A joyous acclaim hails
His listening ear.
So here's a tear
For the man who tries—and fails.

Loud to the favored climber
Fame's shrill trumpets call.
So here's a sigh
For the men who try.
Who strive to rise—and fall.

Oh, come, my friend, take courage.
It isn't the victor's crown
That marks the goal.
It's the fighting soul.
And the spirit that will not down.

So what if we gain no laurels.
We still shall see the light.
And the glory fair
Be writ somewhere,
For that we made the fight.

MASS MEETING OF CHIROPRACTORS IN VALLEY

The San Fernando Valley Chiropractic association held its regular meeting Friday night at the home of Dr. R. M. Atwater of Burbank.

The principal subject of discussion was the mass meeting to be held by this association during the latter part of April. Other matters of interest to the organization were brought up for the consideration of the association.

Those present at this meeting were Clara Howen, president; Harry St. Clair, Virgil Pool, Richard Eble, D. D. Craig, Frances Eble, Glen Hartley, N. C. Burwash, Albert Vack, J. H. Klenke and R. W. Atwater.

Mrs. A. L. Greenlaw, who expect to make their permanent home here.

H. W. Colvard, father of William Colvard of the Press job printing department, arrived Saturday from Roswell, New Mexico. Mr. Colvard, who is a business man of Roswell, expects to locate permanently in California. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Calvin, whose two daughters, Mary and Ethel Calvin, are attending Glendale high school.

R. L. McCourt of 336 North Central was one of a party from Los Angeles and Pasadena, who hiked to Camp Opid over Sunday. They found the snow very deep and the trail closed, but as one of the party had a cabin there he was familiar with the trail and they finally reached their destination. It was a wonderful trip, according to Mr. McCourt.

Discussing the problems of blessedness, the Rev. Dr. Crist, of the First Methodist church, Sunday declared religion of Jesus Christ was a demand for the best in man.

He said in part: "The supreme glory of the religion of Jesus Christ is that it demands our best. We are expected to give the very best we are capable of. The mind of man never conceived anything more beautiful. As we become conscious of the power of this Holy Religion we can say in the words of Paul, 'I press forward toward the mark of the high calling of God.'"

"I know of no man that can lift himself up, but there is something that lifts us. We must give ourselves to it but there is a lifting on the glory of Christ and we come to see the glory of Christ and live the daily existence according to His teachings.

"What good thing must I do that I may have eternal life?" was the question asked of Christ, by the young man who had kept the commandments from his youth up. His answer was, "If thou wilt be perfect, sell all that thou hast and follow me." I have a feeling that we have a misconception of this young man. He had seen only that which was ordinary. No ordinary man can attain perfection. It means more than keeping the commandments. It means sacrifice and service. It takes a strong man to look into a glass and see himself. How easy it is, however, to measure the life of some one man out remember this that only as we look into the glass and see ourselves can we make the big success we ought to make.

"Be not only hearers but doers of the word. If ye know these things, happy is the man who does them." There must be something more than knowing to make success. It isn't the thing we know that makes us happy. After we know the things we are to govern ourselves according to our knowledge. Our greatest condemnation will be lack of doing what we know. He gives everyone a chance to make a strong character. A man isn't blessed because he is naturally good, neither is he strong because he is free from temptation. We do not think of the innocence in a child as anything that can be applied to a man. Blessed is the man who looketh unto the law of the perfect life.

"The man who fails not because he lacks opportunity but because he has not improved them, cannot blame God for his failures, but himself alone. There must be a

GOD'S CALL TO HIS CHURCH SHOWN BY REV. EDMONDS

Clarion Is Always Heard and Understood Says Presbyterian Divine

Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church Rev. W. E. Edmonds spoke as follows:

"It is great to know the Lord speaks, to hear His clarion call. We hear and understand other calls. So to Haggai, the prophet of Israel, on a certain day came the word of the Lord, it concerned the new temple which awaited building. 'I will fill this latter house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts. The silver is mine and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hosts. The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the Lord of hosts; and in this place I will give peace.' (2:7-9)

"We think of prophets as old men, but Haggai was young and strong. God gave him a strong, positive message to his people for the replacing of the destroyed temple, and promising that the glory which He would give the new temple should be yet greater than He had given the former one.

All this takes us back to Solomon. He carried out the great trust laid on him by his father, David, to build the first temple, and he was occupied between seven and eight years with it, the greatest work of his reign and the wonder of the world. Its cost in silver and gold material alone was four thousand millions of dollars, besides other materials, and aside from labor. The best was none too good for God. Wonderful choice woods were brought from Lebanon and elsewhere. Stone was quarried from the bowels of the temple hill itself and brought in vast blocks, so vast that it is beyond understanding how they were handled, yet cut with uttermost precision, and laid in the foundation walls without cement or mortar,—work which has never been equalled. Brass work was made down in the Jordan valley. Marvelous embroideries were made by wonderfully skilled hands that had hearts back of them. Everything was made according to exact plan and with highest artistic ability. All of the multitude of workers worked with a free hand and free heart.

"These people had a site, Mt. Moriah, the same sacred place where Abraham had offered Isaac. The large space was finally enclosed and had choice trees, and here stood the completed structure, the most beautiful and perfect work man have ever conceived. Then came the great dedication. Sacrifices were offered, and divine fire came down and consumed them. The Book says that God came down and accepted the house and promised His blessing. He says when it is done for His glory He will manifest His glory. We cannot separate God from His glory—reverence, holiness, worship, prayer, consecration, giving as an act of worship.

"The temple was intended to foreshadow the church, the spiritual house of the future where God now dwells by the Holy Spirit. 'Ye are the temple of God and the Spirit of God dwelleth in you.'

"The temple was without noise. No hammer or any tool was heard there, for everything was brought prepared. There was harmony and perfect unity in all—the work and the workers. The great Architect of the spiritual temple knows the place for every bit of His building.

"The glory of the Lord shall fill this latter house." His glory shall be there and the expectation of the coming of the Lord; and thy peace shall be there."

CLARK THOMPSON CHRISTY. Mr. and Mrs. Clark Christy of Downey, are the proud parents of a fine boy, born Friday night at the Glendale hospital and sanitarium. They have named the newcomer Clark Thompson Christy Jr. and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Brice and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Christy are more than proud of him as he is their first grandchild. Mr. and Mrs. Christy are residents of Downey, but formerly lived in Glendale.

disposition to press forward, on the part of the man, not because of a miracle that breaks through the skies, but as we see the perfect exemplification through Christ we press forward eagerly, and then there comes divine co-operation. As we look at his life there are three extraordinary elements to be incorporated in our lives.

First—Purpose. There must be a tremendous purpose, without which a great life can never result. The reason why he succeeded was because he set out to win the world. For this one thing he was willing to sacrifice and if we are to succeed we must do likewise.

Second—Sacrifice. Paul was a great success. "This one thing I do" was his motto. We some times spread ourselves out over too large a space to succeed. We all must climb the road to Calvary and share with Him his suffering, for only the man who suffers can attain perfection.

Third—Service. This is the logical outcome. "Sell all that thou hast." I think that phrase means a change of purpose. It isn't a matter of getting but a matter of giving that should be the principle of a Christian life whose ideal is to succeed.

I. O. O. F. DANCE IS BIG SUCCESS

The dance given Saturday night in the new Odd Fellows' hall was a great success. There were a good many young people out and everyone had a jolly good time. Music for dancing was furnished by George's orchestra. Their next dance will be given this coming Saturday night at the same place and it is hoped that an even larger crowd will be out.

We are admonished to let our light shine before men, but not to make a Fourth of July fireworks display of it.

VEGETABLE STAND ON VALLEY ROAD

Jesse C. Smith, a recent arrival from Chicago, has opened a fruit and vegetable stand on San Fernando road just north of Park avenue, and will carry a complete and fresh assortment of everything in that line. Mr. Smith has moved to Glendale with his family and intends to make his future home here.

Nowadays, when we see a heading in the paper entitled "A National Disgrace" we read the article to see which one.

We Know Batteries Like a Book!

Repairing batteries may look easy—but it isn't!

To be successful, a repair man has to know how to handle the plates that hold the active material that keeps life in the battery. He has to know how to take care of the separators that keep the plates apart. He has to know when it is cheaper for you to buy a new battery than to have the old one repaired.

Bring your battery in to Headquarters—no matter whether it's a Willard or not. We'll tell you what it needs, if anything, how much the cost will be—and whether repairs will pay or not.
